MIDWESTERNS

by Dave Schultz

Excitement filled the Wagon Wheel Ice Palace in Rockton, Illinois, when the Midwestern Figure Skating Championships were held there on January 7-9. In some cases, each skater performed so well that victory was won by only the narrowest margin. The judges, as well as the skaters, were put to a hard test.

Probably the most exciting skater at the Midwesterns was Johnny Johns, who became one of the comparatively few skaters in the history of the Midwesterns to compete in three senior events. This task was made even more difficult when a schedule quirk forced him to compete in all three events—Senior Men, Gold Dance and Senior Pairs-in one three hour period.

Johnny, a nineteen-year-old college sophomore from the Detroit SC, also skated with different partners from different clubs in Gold Dance and Senior Pairs.

Johnny and his Gold Dance partner, Mary Karen Campbell of the Lansing SC, breezed into first place in the two-couple field. After an official announced that there would be a brief delay to give Johnny a few moments, the skater found a king-sized cheering section in the 1,500 people present.

Following his brief rest, Johns took to the ice for the Senior Mens free skating. He demonstrated remarkable endurance and skated his way to the Midwestern Senior Mens title. Johnny's program was highlighted by spectacular jumps. He had been second after figures.

Another breather, and Johns joined with Laura Johnson of the SC of Lake Placid for the Senior Pairs final. Johnny and Laura skated a smooth program and retained their second place spot. Douglas Berndt and Barbara Brown of the Denver FSC took first place. Their near-perfect execution of a difficult program left the crowd awed.

Saturday night, Johnny finished up his heroics by winning the Gold Dance crown with Mary Karen Campbell. This last win assured skating enthusiasts going to the National Skating Championships in Buffalo of an opportunity to see this magnificent young skater in three events once again.

In Junior Ladies competition, Kathy Lee Malmberg gained a slim lead after figures, but the final outcome was in doubt until the end of free skating Friday evening. Kathy, from the host Wagon Wheel FSC, had a narrow edge over Bobbie Chadd of the Denver FSC and Paula Larson of the Braemar-City of Lakes FSC.

Alice Cook, from the Lansing SC rose from ninth to third place in the Novice Ladies at the 1970 Midwesterns. And no one doubted her ability to do it again. Alice, a first year Junior, skated well again but could only pull herself from tenth after figures to an overall eighth place.

Every Junior Lady exhibited ability in the free skating, but Kathy Malmberg skated a sparkling program and won her first Midwestern Junior title. Paula Larson took second, and Althea Samson of the Detroit SC won third.

Another highlight of the competitions came just before closing Saturday night. The Junior Pair competition had been exciting from the start. Each couple seemed just a bit better than the preceding one. Surely the judges would have a hard time deciding the champions. The seventh and last pair, however, performed just that much better than the others. In their first Midwestern championship, Sheryl Trueman and Jack Courtney of Troy, Ohio, skated a difficult program that would make a Senior Pair proud.

Sheryl and Jack won the 1969 World Roller Skating Pair Championships, and Jack was also the World Mens Champion that year. In July, 1970, they turned to ice, this year competing for the first time.

Another dazzling part of the competition was the Senior Ladies freestyle. Cindy Watson of Tulsa skated her way to first place, after finishing second in figures. If repeated, Cindy's performance could make her a stiff competitor for national honors.

In another close race, Betsy Hobson, from the Braemar-City of Lakes FSC, came from third after figures to win the Novice Ladies title. Katie Tamminga, Wagon Wheel FSC, slipped from first after figures, but skated well enough to finish second. In an astonishing finish, Diane Dennison of the Denver FSC zoomed all the way from sixth after figures to third overall.

Other champions crowned during the three day meet were: David Santee, Junior Men; Myra and David Chrien, Silver Dance; Sven Krevald, Novice Men; Rosemary Wiltzbacher and David Bolton, Novice Pairs; Ruth Johnson and Frank Recco, Bronze Dance; Ronald Green, Intermediate Men; Lynne Ellison, Intermediate Ladies.

The Detroit SC, thanks mainly to Johnny Johns, won the team trophy, presented by the Cleveland SC.

But next in line for accolades must be the host Wagon Wheel club. Although a newspaper strike eliminated any widespread publicity of the event in the area, the Wagon Wheel Committee still put on an excellent competition. Despite the lack of publicity, a standing-room-only crowd of more than 2500 people turned out for Saturday night's finale.

Janet Lynn, the reigning U.S. Ladies Champion, gave three exhibitions to appreciative audiences.
