Camp Carroll is the first skating camp of its kind in the United States. In addition to skating, the camp offers such additional activities as swimming, archery, badminton, canoeing, tennis, and golf.

Appetizing and nourishing meals are prepared three times a day with the open kitchen door policy for those who like to snack between meals.

The camp program is so laid out as to give the skater a maximum amount of sunshine daily. Sports apparel; shorts, etc. may be worn at all times.

There is a spacious recreation room, one of the camp's many facilities.

Swimming is under the supervision of a Red Cross Water Safety Instructor.

An accredited summer school is conducted by Hershey High School. The Camp director has also contacted several professors who are available for tutoring in special subjects.

Background to the Blues

by MURIEL KAY Professional

Author of "The Key to Rhythmic Ice Dancing"
(Reprinted from the Skating World, April 1961)

ONE OF THE MOST FREQUENTLY HEARD criticisms of the high test and competitive dancers is that there is a general lack of interpretation and variety of expression between one dance and another. A basic, smooth, controlled, and flowing movement is desirable in all the dances, but this movement, combinations of step-dance sequences, can be ably demonstrated without any music at all. Dance steps skated harmoniously to music demand the interpretation of that music and its mood. Each dance has its own distinctive rhythmic pattern and the melody and harmony set the mood. From the combination of these two main factors stems the character of the dance itself. The stronger the characteristics of a dance the more evident is lack of expression, and an understanding and insight into the gradual evolution of the music of a dance should ultimately lead to better interpretation.

At first the blues was a wordless musical call from one Negro to another as they worked in the fields and plantations of the southern United States. The tribes had been purposely split up to prevent any gathering together, and so the Negro was often without any means of communication with his neighbor except through song. He was also without his drum, and these calls, intensely rhythmic, provided a compensating rhythmic outlet.

Most of the slaves sent to the U.S. were from West Africa where the music was based upon the pentatonic scale, having five notes within the compass of the octave, whole steps (3 major seconds) and one-and-a-half steps (2 minor thirds), in comparison with the Western diatonic scale with its semi-tones between steps 3 and 4, and 7 and 8. To the Western people today Oriental music sounds strange and different, so it is not surprising that to the Negro on coming into contact with Western music the semi-tone steps sounded like wrong notes or possibly didn't even register in his mind at all. As he tried to sing the white man's songs the semi-tones either disappeared entirely, or what we know as the thirds and sevenths of the major scale became altered—flattened to flat thirds and sevenths, and these later became known as the "blue notes," and give the blues its characteristic melodic flavor. It is often difficult to tell whether unaccompanied blues songs are in a major or minor key.

The basic blues-form is simple and repetitive. It usually has a three-line stanza and a 12-bar construction, thereby differing from the standard 16-bar form. In the early songs the rhyming scheme was usually A, A, A, and the vocal part of the phrase often ended before the melody, leaving the accompanying instrument to improvise the remaining bars. This was the beginning of the "Break," which has played an important part in the growth and development of jazz. Most blues are in 4/4 time.

Many different environmental factors contributed to the blues. It is a fusion of tribal chant and spiritual, gospel song and devil song, street funeral march and Creole folk song. The spontaneous expression of the daily trials of a socially and economically oppressed people. A relief from tensions for a people whose very life had been inseparable from rhythm for centuries. A predominantly emotional and realistic people. There were work songs, prison songs, chain gang songs with the insistent beat of the hammer running through them; songs of love and lost love; of despair, of pain, of hope. Much more than the popular conception of the dusky singer in the smoke-laden night club, the blues are a way of life.

And so the blues found its way from the sad solitary call spread by the wandering guitar player and roustabouts to small groups of street musicians and minstrel shows, to the bands and big bands with which we are now familiar. Out of this complex pattern evolved the blues, which I heard most eloquently described recently by a colored singer as "The Mother of the Sorrows of Jazz."

So this is the background of the Blues. The slow tempo and strongly curving edges present the ice dancer with an almost unique opportunity to demonstrate the best of pure dance movement. Unfortunately the Blues often degenerates into nothing more than just another dance of the Foxtrot group skated a little slower than the rest. Perhaps the lack of expression and interpretation arises from the prevailing idea that the Blues is essentially sexy, and to the inhibited Westerner something rather vulgar and certainly not quite nice to be seen in public—and at an ice rink! But pure art is never vulgar, and there are certainly many degrees of refinement from tribal dance to the Blues on ice still leaving room for it to be performed with real expression without becoming an entirely anaemic relation of its ancestor.

Although the dance should appear lazy, this is an end only achieved by hard work. It does not mean careless, untidy footwork and sagging body position, but a completely relaxed movement from a supple knee and pliable body positions, demanding a high degree of control, in complete harmony with the music.

Comments from a Competitor-Judge

by ROY WAGELEIN Los Angeles FSC

NOT ONLY AM I ACTIVE in all phases of competitive skating, but I am a figure and dance judge as well. Therefore, I want to write about my reactions as a figure judge and my feelings toward figure and free skating judging in general.

In order to become a figure judge, I agree completely with the extensive trial judging required, except in very special instances. I was called upon to trial judge what, at the time, seemed like endless tests before my appointment came through. However, I realize now this really helped me to become (I hope!) a good judge.

I found that having passed the tests myself made me too hard on the candidates at the beginning of my trial judging, but as time went by I realized that a First Test can't come anywhere near an Eighth Test in standard. (I think that's when I finally got my figure test appointment.) I certainly feel that someone who has skated figures is much better qualified to be a good judge, on the whole, than a person who has never skated figures.

In free skating it is terribly important to those of us who compete, that every judge knows the name and, especially, the difficulty of each jump. For instance, that the difficulty between a double toe loop and a double flip is enormous.

Judging free skating is not like judging a swimming race where the first one to the finish line wins. In a free skating program one, two, or even three skaters may have almost identical tricks. But one will have the best flow, music interpretation, and the most gracefully executed jumps, spins and steps. There should be sufficient spread in the marks under these conditions so that the best one has a chance to pull up.

Things which I feel important are: Holding landing positions; finishing out dance steps; ending spins with proper finish; skating precisely to the music. There are other factors which I have not mentioned, but I feel that these are some of the things which should be marked up in manner of performance scores.

It is terribly difficult to judge accurately when you see a program only once; you must see and evaluate so much in such a brief period of time. I hope soon that some method can be found where the judges can first learn to know the program, and then be able to concentrate on the skater's performance. I feel this would be a real step forward for all of us.

Questioning the Clubs . . .

About

Publications, Publicity and Policies

WHAT HAPPENS when skaters come off the ice? A few of their activities were touched upon in the Club Operation Survey Questionnaire.

The first topic: Does the club publish a News Letter? Forty out of the 90 clubs returning the questionnaire said that they did put out a bulletin of one kind or another. About 35% of these bulletins were obviously of a formal nature as they are published monthly. Others seem to be more impromptu as they are published "ad lib," "spasmodically," "as needed," or "whenever news is considered of general interest."

A more individual question was what the clubs named their papers. Here are some of the replies: Tracing Talk, Anyone for Skating?, Inside Edge, Skating Blade, Off-the-Ice, Ice Shavings, The Figure 8, Chips, On Your Edges, The Beacon, Essex Edges, Gay Blades, etc.

Does the club publish brochures or informational pamphlets for its members? Clubs were about evenly divided as to whether they do or do not do this. The question, "Does it put out some literature for prospective members?" brought a slightly different response with 56% of the clubs replying yes.

Does the club seek publicity in local news media? Almost 80% of the clubs do try to publicize their sport and activities. In answer to which methods have proven most successful, the overwhelming number—four-fifths—said that newspaper publicity has been most advantageous, while the remainder had been successful with radio and television coverage.

Money matters are close to the functioning heart of a club. Some of the subjects coming under this category are insurance, taxes, and budgets. Do clubs carry public liability policies? Only 35% of the clubs do. Do they have a medical payment policy covering treatment of injuries suffered by members at scheduled sessions? Very few do this—14%. When queried whether experience indicated that such forms of insurance are desirable or necessary, a third of the clubs felt they were.

Then that inescapable subject: taxes. Is the club exempt from income taxes? Almost all—92%—are exempt. Do they have exemption from Federal Excise Taxes on dues and skating fees? Most clubs do: 87%.

In the budget vein, clubs were asked if they prepare annual operating budgets. Two-thirds of them do. The other one-third use different methods of estimating anticipated income and expenses in advance of each season. What method of fiscal control has been found to be satisfactory? About a third of the clubs filled in this blank; among the methods mentioned were: budget, audit, Board, Treasurer, membership, bookkeeper, and committee.

Are periodic audits of the club's books made and by what methods? About three-quarters of the clubs have audits. The methods used include Certified Public Accountant, Treasurer, Vice-President and President, officers, Board of Governors, financial report, committee, bank, associates, etc.

Another monetary question centered about carnivals: Are they successful financially? Forty out of the 47 clubs answering this said they did make money. Another carnival query was: Does the club hold an annual carnival? Fifty-eight per cent of the clubs reporting said they do, but only four clubs reported holding several shows a year.

HINTS FROM COMPETITORS

THE SKATER'S BLADES are the most sensitive and important part of a skater's equipment. Through proper care and attention, you can insure a long life of dependability and service for your blades. For those who skate most of the year, the average life of a free skating blade is one to two years. It is two to three years for a figure blade. (This is assuming your feet and boot size don't change and also depends upon the number of times the blades are sharpened.)

Unfortunately, the most important factor in the longevity and the service of a blade is the most frequently neglected. Blades are made for performance on ice and not (as some skaters think) for walking on wood, carpets, cement, or other foreign objects. At all times, when not using your blades for the purpose for which they were designed, i.e., skating—be sure to protect them with a pair of guards. Most skaters will agree that rubber guards offer greater protection without dulling the blades.

Nicks along with rust are a blade's worst enemy. Out of necessity, our family has created a protective blade covering made of terry cloth which helps to prevent nicks while travelling or while our skates are being jostled around in our lockers. These terry cloth covers also absorb any drops of moisture which might have been missed in the wiping of the blades. This brings up the point that whenever you take off your skates, be sure to wipe your blades immediately and thoroughly. This is just common sense rule # 1. And then, be sure not to put your guards on again, for you will just be defeating the purpose of wiping your blades; your wet guards will hold the moisture on your blades, which multiplies the chances for rust.

I would like to correct one of the most common fallacies concerning blades. Occasionally, when your guards are not at hand, it will become necessary to walk on your blades. In this instance, I have heard so many people say, "Walk on your toe picks and save your blades." It would seem to me that, since it is very difficult to sharpen dull toe picks and much easier to sharpen blades, the rule should be "Walk on your blades and save your toe picks" (which are so vital for jumps and spins). This rule would not hold true for figure blades where the toe picks are not used.

I'm sure every skater knows these few simple measures concerning blade care. My point is that they should be practiced as well as preached.—MONTY HOYT, Broadmoor SC.

THE KEY WORD TO PAIR SKATING is togetherness. However, there is a third party—the professional—who is the brain behind the pair, who works and instructs us in all our movements.

Pair skating is not just two soloists on the ice surface, but two skaters who look as one. The program should contain difficult maneuvers and lifts, but be free and easy in appearance. Music interpretation is a "must," and both partners should be able to "feel" the music they are skating to. Always remember to smile and keep your head up and enjoy what you are doing. If it isn't enjoyable, you shouldn't be out there. If it is, show it, and any spectators will react accordingly.

The girl must learn to let her partner "wear the pants." By this, I mean she should do what he asks without putting up a fuss. In a perfect pair the boy leads and the girl follows, and all energy and time should be directed toward perfecting the pair and not in petty arguments.

The boy is not the only one who should do exercises to build up his muscles; so should the girl. There are various exercises that will enable you to straighten your elbows from the very beginning of the lift to the very height of it, and then to return to the ice with a smooth, continuous flow.

The most enjoyable part of pairs is dieting? (Ugh!) Everything that tastes good is fattening and weight building, and with hours of hard work for perfection your stomach begins to growl for that dreaded word "food." Thus, the inner fight begins.

However, when your aim is the top, all these things, plus hard work and a few sacrifices, will be worth-while if that goal can be reached; or even if in the attempt to reach it, I know I have done all I could do, to the best of my ability.—LINDA ANN WARD, Galt FSC.

AN IMPORTANT THING TO REMEMBER when pair skating is not to compete with each other but work together to accomplish your goal. The boy should take a back seat and should show the girl off.

Remember not to stray away from pair moves. Read your Rulebook! If you separate then both do the same steps, jumps, or spins.

In competing I believe the only thing that will help is experience but maybe I can help a bit.

When you are practicing pretend that it's your test, or competition, also pretend your arena is full of people—smile at them and this will relax you.—GUY REVELL, Unionville SC.

I HAVE FOUND that the more advanced skater becomes more dependent upon the basic compulsory figures, jumps, and spins. The perfection of these basic principles requires long hours of diligent practice on the ice. This brings to mind the saying, "Practice makes Perfect."—THERESA VON ENGELN, Broadmoor SC.

LOOKING OVER THE PAIR SITUATION we find that at the moment there are not enough junior pairs coming up. From experience, we can say that pair skating can be most enjoyable.

Several years ago, a professional from the Sudbury Skating Club teamed us up for dancing for Sectional competition. A few weeks later, we won the Dutch Waltz event. We branched into pair skating the following year and, at first, it was rather difficult.

We wish to warn pairs who are starting not to get discouraged for it takes time to develop coordination and timing together.

Once this is established you will enjoy your skating because you are now able to develop new and original moves. Of course, an expert professional in pairs is needed to guide you in your work.

We have found that pairs are in great demand for carnivals and are very much appreciated by the viewing audience. Finally, we sincerely hope to see, in the near future, a great number of new pairs in competitions.—GERTRUDE DESJARDINS & MAURICE LAFRANCE, Toronto CS & CC.

I HAVE LEARNED in competing and taking tests that perfection in practice is a necessary requisite. With this perfection I find that my general skating in competition and in tests is less apt to result in faulty and defective performances.

My experience in the 1962 Nationals has taught me to carry spare equipment to every competition. As a rule my skates are not ground until a day or two prior to leaving for a competition. However, last year several days before leaving for Boston the man who expertly grinds my skates had taken ill and was unable to do them. After many phone calls to various skating experts another grinder was recommended. Although he did an excellent job and conformed as well as possible to the grind I am accustomed to, I found it very hard to adjust to it.

In addition, my professional and my father informed me after the competition was over that the steel in one free skating blade was defective, and this condition could have become more severe. I was not informed of this prior to the free skating because both knew what it would have done to my morale. After examining the defective blade I was both amazed and thankful that I managed to perform at all.

To avoid similar experiences I have acquired one additional pair of fitted boots, one extra pair of figure blades, and one extra pair of free skating blades. The extra blades are ground exactly like the blades in use.

I highly recommend other competitors should consider taking the same action as I have.—TOMMY LITZ, Hershey FSC.

Eastern Clubs

Beacon Hill Club competition dates were revised: Jan. 19 for free skating and the 20th for junior and senior dance events. Tests days were set for Jan. 26, Feb. 2 and Mar. 9, and the "Friday special" gatherings on Jan. 18 and Feb. 1. On Feb. 16, the New Jersey inter-club party was to take place at which each club was responsible for a group exhibition.

Buffalo C & SC conducted a Christmas party at the Buffalo Curling Club for the children of members on Dec. 15. The youngsters each brought a gift for the Salvation Army. Participants in an exhibition program were the Winter Bells—Debra and Elaine Fulson, Melissa Selleck, Debra Picren, Linda and Kathy Vance, Sandra Bauer and Darcy Malick—and a pair by Sandra & Michelle Whissell. Santa Claus and skating animals were portrayed by the fathers. Mr. & Mrs. Richard Conner chairmanned the committee in charge of the affair, and choreography for the show was by pros Mrs. Edward Dee and Mrs. Richard Duroure. Another exhibition was given on Jan. 12, in two parts—an afternoon performance for the children and one in the evening for adult members and their guests. A buffet dinner was served preceding the second show, and the evening ended with skating for all. Entertainment Chairman Mrs. Elroy Fulson was in charge of the program. Soloists included Bill Neale, Laurie Robinson, Sharon and Cheryl Patterson, Cheryl Picren and Honor Widler. Other participants were the Winter Bells, Elizabeth Roberts & Ed Dee, Valerie & Jack Vance, the Whissell Sisters (a trio), Joan White & Donald Leslie, Jr., and a Dutch Waltz and a Scotch Curls group.

Clinton FSC ran its competitions in December. The resulting winners made the occasion almost a family affair: Nancy Des Jardins, senior; Bill Des Jardins, novice; Mrs. Arthur Des Jardins & Frank Hays, veterans dance.

Essex SC of New Jersey, as a member of the newly-formed New Jersey Council of Figure Skating Clubs, planned a party for Mar. 4 to which members of all USFSA clubs in the State were invited. Dances, games and exhibitions, together with an informal pair competition, were on the agenda. The Council was formed this winter to serve as a clearing house for figure skating activities, in addition to sponsoring inter-club parties and, eventually, a State competition. The Council consists of two delegates from each club with USFSA representatives from New Jersey as ex-officio members; Dr. E. Clarence Kern is temporary Chairman.

Hershey FSC's junior division held its annual competition on Jan. 20 in which about 150 members participated. Gold medals were won by first placers Cathy Maire, Amy Killinger, Eleonora Ehrhorn and William Tomaselli, beginners; Jo Ann Clarkson, Ellen Berger, Jan Carberry, Ronald Rhoads, Martha Emerick and Wendy Alsedek, intermediate; Cheryl Dundore (Second Test), Debbie Hummel and Ronald Thorpe (First Test), advanced; Stephanie Radcliffe & Ralph Neily, teener dance. Exhibitions were given by Tommy Litz, Mike Glover, Wynn Miller, Cathy Lowe and Wendy Jones. Floyd Litz and G. Warren Shank were in charge of the competition and seniors acted as judges. The senior division has conducted several guest nights to encourage new skaters. Competitors from both junior and senior groups have been invited to skate exhibitions at sessions so that new members have the opportunity to view a competition program. In the group instruction classes in advanced dance, participants are planning "free" dance programs, putting together parts of dances of similar rhythm to make a "new" dance; this is proving to be fun as well as good practice.

IC of Baltimore's pre-Christmas party took place at the L'Hirondelle Club on Dec. 10. About 125 members joined in the festivities which included cocktails and dinner. Mrs. Eleanor Shriver Cassilly and her Entertainment Committee were responsible for the attractive decorations. Participating in the program were President S. Vannort Chapman and Edward Gieske, Jr. A large test session was included in the February schedule.

Laurelton Pines SC conducted a Christmas party for the children on Dec. 22. Each child received a hand puppet as a gift. Dropped cake, spilled soda and lost puppets made the occasion a howling success! On Jan. 6, the annual covered dish supper took place with both food and people plentiful.

Metropolitan FSC held a special test session at the South Mountain Arena on Dec. 2. Of the 80 tests taken, 58% were passed. The next two test sessions at this Arena were scheduled for Jan. 5 and Feb. 2. The club sponsored exhibitions at the East Meadow Carnival (Long Island) on Dec. 3.

North Jersey FSC members enjoyed the biggest social ever on Dec. 26 when junior and senior groups gathered for a gala Christmas party. Beverly Kubick skated an exhibition before more than 100 spectators, and pros Bobbi Raymond and Marc Nelson conducted games.

North Shore SC's annual Christmas gala took place at the North Shore Sports Center on Dec. 16. Approximately 150 members and guests were on hand, along with Santa (Skip Mader) who had presents for all. A two-hour skating session with games for young and old opened the affair and a soup-to-nuts buffet was prepared and served by the ladies.

Old York Road SC drew up a busy agenda for the balance of the season. A Valentine Tea for the introduction of new members and a Dance Judges School on the 24th were slated for February, with tests late in March. The annual dance will be held Mar. 17 at the Yorktown Inn.

Pittsburgh FSC has been pursuing a full-time program of activities. The 11 P.M. to CLINTON FSC CHAMPIONS, all members of the same family: Bill, Mrs. Arthur Des Jardins, Nancy.

1 A.M. fun sessions at the outdoor South Park Rink took place on Dec. 27 and Jan. 18. On the first occasion the park was beautifully decorated for Christmas with a lighted tree at the entrance of the chalet-type administration building. Dance classes are being conducted for preliminary and advanced groups, as well as instruction for beginning skaters. Because of the large group of beginners, the club has instituted a new practice: several of the college-age advanced skaters are donating their time for half-hour periods at each session to help the novices. One end of the rink is assigned for this purpose and the new skaters are divided into two groups—adults and children—with one or two advanced members helping each class. Dance tests took place on Jan. 12, and Mar. 16 and 23 are set for advanced tests and the dance contest for the Dan Linborg Memorial Cup.

St. Lawrence FSC's membership reached over 100 persons by January. A Christmas party took place on Dec. 23 and members enjoyed a visit from Santa. Plans were made for a food sale in January as a fund-raising project.

The SC of Lake Placid, which commenced social activities with an open house on Nov. 15, held a Christmas party for the juniors on Dec. 20. Scholarship lessons were awarded to Nancy Colby, Karen Preston, Holly Chabbott and Billy Bruce. Santa Claus made his appearance and gave candy to the youngsters; several exhibitions were skated by juniors.

South Mountain FSC's annual Christmas party followed the junior session on Dec. 20. Mrs. Helen Slusman, assisted by Mrs. Alice Statter, was in charge of arrangements. Ellen Wellington, the club's first competitor and North Atlantic Juvenile Champion, was presented with a bouquet by President Arthur McDermott.

Members exchanged gifts and enjoyed dancing and refreshments.

Washington FSC's Test and Competition Committee headed by Patsy Picken conducted a Figure Judging School on Dec. 14-15. About 30 members gathered at Donnie Becke's home on Friday evening for discussions by the judges on all phases of testing, and the next morning judging enthusiasts met for the on-the-ice portion which included demonstrations by Diane and Cherylle Becke, Lindy Jones, Anne Meade, Barlow Nelson and Judy Queisser. Santa, who resembled Dick Doring, paid an early visit on Dec. 10 at the Christmas dance; special events included the "Passion" Tango won by Vera Barber & John Pritchett as the most "loving" couple. During the Christmas festivities Verna Wilken, Hospitality Chairman, awarded Alec Radcliffe the Hospitality Cup as the winner of the Committee's secret contest. The Entertainment Committee planned a tea dance for Jan. 27 at the River House, and the club competitions were set for late February and early March.

Midwestern Clubs

Detroit SC's second annual guest day took place on Jan. 13, arranged by Fred Simancek, Membership Committee Chairman, and his aides. Family skating led off the afternoon program which included a half-hour exhibition. Competitors were honored at two send-off parties. At the festivity preceding the Sectionals, Tim Wood, Johnny Johns, Kenny Schroeder, Yvonne Drummond, Duane Maki and Kevan Ann Coulter skated their programs. On Feb. 3, the Women's Auxiliary planned a party for National competitors Yvonne Drummond, Tim Wood, Duane Maki and Myrna Bodek. On Jan. 27, Mary Elizabeth O'Donnell and Maureen Contway participated in a carnival staged by a church group. Members were invited to present an exhibition on Feb. 4 at Cobo Hall, held in connection with the first Detroit Fire and Police Hockey Game and given to benefit the Goodfellow Fund for needy children. Eight senior couples, as well as Sally Wells & guest Jerry Crandall, were to perform dances, while Miss Wells, Mary Elizabeth O'Donnell, Linda Carbonetto and Johnny Johns were to skate solos.

FSC of Cincinnati members Linda & Jack Comberger gave a skating exhibition between periods of a hockey game on Jan. 5 at the Cincinnati Gardens. The teams participating were the Cincinnati Junior Mohawks and the Louisville Meteors and the game was for the benefit of amateur hockey in Cincinnati.

Gateway FSC of Missouri chose the Steinberg Rink in St. Louis as the site for its Christmas party on Dec. 14. The program sparkled with solos by Denise Needham, Gary Kidd, Toy Dorgan, Stephanie Tower and Mary Flynn and a free dance by Mary Schneidermeyer & Bill Boeck. Games were directed by the Planning Committee headed by Andy Anderson, who also distributed the prizes. The party closed with a grand march led by Santa Claus, alias President Bill Rickard.

Great Lakes FSC started off the New Year with a sleigh-ride party and dance for adults and teenagers. The proceeds from this activity financed a test day on Jan. 27. Before the U. S. Championships, competitor Gary Visconti was honored at a send-off party; joining in the festivities were guests Tim Wood and Yvonne Drummond, also National contestants. Each skated a competition program before an enthusiastic group of well-wishers.

Plaza FSC hosted an evening of ice dancing on Jan. 26, inviting members of the Cleveland SC and the Towne 'N Country FSC. A Valentine party was planned for the juniors, featuring an exchange of Valentines, games and refreshments.

Queen City FSC members turned out for the annual Christmas party on Dec. 20, despite a heavy snowfall and ice. The large crowd viewed a solo by Jan Lawson and a number by Toni Meiss, Corynn Gangle, Linda Leary and Paula Guy. Games were directed by Don Seibert and Rev. T. C. Thepe. Santa Claus (David Altemueller) distributed surprise packages from his bag. Mrs. David Comisar was in charge of refreshments.

South Side IC of Chicago scheduled its carnival for Feb. 17, titled "Bits from Hits." The show's name was drawn from the music—a "Medley of Broadway Show Hits." Spotlights in the production were Suanne Reedy, Susan Klecka, Sharon Meunier, Marita and Charlotte Farsky, Ruth & Tom Calandriello, Libby McFadden, Kathy Kuta, Nina Muskaluk, Mary Porthouse and Diane Goldstein.

Troy SC's busy winter was highlighted by competitions the week of Jan. 20. Patsy

1963 FRENCH CHAMPIONSHIPS

by JANE VAUGHN SULLIVAN Broadmoor SC

THE FRENCH CHAMPIONSHIPS held in the middle of January were very interesting and the standards in general were high, although the classes were sparse compared to the United States. There were only three Senior Ladies, five entries in the Men's Senior, one Pair and three Dance couples.

The Free Dance was quite enjoyable. Ghislaine Houdas and Francis Gamichon did a very snappy program with fast footwork—all to modern jazzy music. Armelle Flichy and Pierre Brun offered a smooth and rhythmic performance which gave them first place.

Nicole Hassler opened her program with a double lutz and, although she fell on it, she recovered beautifully and did very well. Her spins were their usual blur—I think she does the best cross foot I have seen. She won easily.

The Senior Men did programs of high content and in general were quite good.

Alain Calmat's new program is very impressive and beautifully composed. His music is excellent and Alain is performing like a real Champion now. He does a triple loop jump, double lutz and a gorgeous flying sit-spin with nary a pause or waver. I think Alain has improved tremendously and is one to be reckoned with this year. He is going to medical school and skates early in the morning. He must have worked very hard to have developed such a sure touch. Robert Dureville came second with a normal performance. Philippe Pelissier, who placed third, is showing great promise for France and I think will have a great future if he continues.

Marie-France Tournier and Jacques Mrozek won the Junior Singles events.

1963 GERMAN CHAMPIONSHIPS

by JOHN NOEL

JANUARY IS ALWAYS championship time in West Germany. On the first weekend of the month the different "Lander" (the States within the Federal Republic) hold their original events, and a fortnight later there are the "Deutschen"—the "Nationals."

Berlin was host for the West German National Championships, on the weekend of January 18-20. In the ladies' figures on Friday, Defending Champion Inge Paul found herself outskated. The five judges unanimously put her predecessor Karin Gude first; Miss Paul was second, with Angelika ("Antje") Wagner third.

On Friday night the pairs provided the highlight of the whole weekend. Marika Kilius and Hans-Jurgen Baumler were better than ever before, I thought, and that seems to be the opinion of many here in Germany too. As always, they were supremely elegant, with perfect synchronization of movement. They have some lovely fast backward steps, executed hand in hand at almost Don Jackson speed, and of course some tremendous double-axel lifts and other overhead lifts. They received six 5.8s and four 5.9s, and thus won back with ease the title they previously held in 1958 and 1959. (In the three following years, they were always beaten by Margret Gobl and Franz Ningel, now professionals.)

The other pairs were naturally overshadowed by the new Champions' magnificent display, but there was an excellent contest for second place. Sonja Pfersdorf and Gunter Matzdorf skated very gracefully and with considerable feeling for their music; their jumps included axels, double salchow, and butterfly. They were runners-up by one judge's place, just ahead of Sigrid Riechmann and Wolfgang Danne. All three pairs are eligible to compete at Budapest.

The men's figures next day produced the expected lead for Manfred Schnelldorfer, ahead of the holder, Sepp Schonmetzler. Schnelldorfer, winner every time he has competed since 1956, could not skate last year because of injury.

Karin Gude was also unable to compete in 1962, but she has now made a good comeback. Skating fast to Verdi's "Sicilian Vespers" overture, she included a fine double loop jump, and axels off each foot. Her figure lead enabled her to win, but in the free she was just beaten by the 1962 Champion Inge Paul.

In the Men's event, too, the holder was defeated. Sepp Schonmetzler, renowned in comedy as well as free skating, was at his very best, with a difficult program skated at speed, and including two high double axels in succession. Nevertheless, he could not overcome Manfred Schnelldorfer's figure advantage, and so the title changed hands.

Only in ice dancing were the Defending Champions successful. Helga Burckhardt and her husband, Hannes, won for the second time, beating Rita and Peter Kwiet, who previously held the title from 1958 to 1961.

Don't Lose Your Ice

AFTER HAVING AN ICE ARENA for a period of years, you may take your ice for granted. Please don't!! It is a terrible feeling to have to report to the USFSA that your club is inactive because you have lost your ice. Amarillo is without an ice arena! Our members are lost, and we still cannot believe it has happened.

Clubs need to work harder at promoting and encouraging figure skating; they need more instructors to help youngsters get interested and started skating; they need the advanced skaters to help more at the public sessions and the club sessions. They need to be friendly and they need to pull together. They should support their Pro, and never lose him or her because of lack of interest. Clubs in the southern part of the United States will have to work much harder to get figure skating established. Member Clubs need to be more friendly towards one another, visit Member Clubs more, invite the different judges to trial judge their tests instead of telling them "no."

We were not a strong club, test or competition-wise, but our love for figure skating is as strong as ever. If we can promote and encourage another ice arena, then I feel we have a strong club. Our work is cut out for us—won't you work harder for your club? Don't lose your ice! —ROBERT E. SNYDER, ISC of Amarillo.

ROCKERS AND COUNTERS

Carmichael & E. M. Kirkendall won the senior Dutch Waltz, and winners in the senior dance event were Kathryn Tenney & Dick Day. Junior Club champions: Barbara Yaggi and James Disbrow, senior; Sandra Hess and Chris Young, junior; Robin Hines and Michael Garran, novice; Robin Reed and Eddie Myers, juvenile; Connie Galbreath & James Disbrow, junior pair.

Wagon Wheel FSC skaters were invited to attend the ice carnival given by the Lion's Club of Lake Geneva on Jan. 27, in which some members were to perform. A committee comprised of Nancy Kuchenmeister, Fran Kephart and Dorothy Mann was in charge of arrangements. Another adult open house skating-dancing party was planned for early February and several area clubs received invitations.

WC of Indianapolis made arrangements for a Mardi Gras dinner-dance for members and guests at the Indianapolis Columbia Club the evening of Feb. 16. The fourth annual club competitions are scheduled for Mar. 18-23, and the annual awards dinner on the 29th at Holiday Inn East. The final skating session of the season will be on Mar. 22. Several skaters were invited to perform outdoors at the Ellenberger Park Rink on Jan. 27 and at the Columbus (Ind.) Ice Skating Carnival on Feb. 12-13. The annual meeting was to take place on Feb. 11 at the Indiana National Bank.

Pacific Coast Clubs

Great Falls FSC's Secretary Ann Murray sponsored a party at the Civic Center Auditorium on Dec. 9. The affair featured ice games, races and refreshments and entertainment furnished by the competitors—Cathy Lowden, Susie Schumacher, Cindy Brendgord, Dan Murphy, John Petkevich and Paula Odegard. The membership "thermometer" hit a record of 355 persons. For the first time, the club has an emblem. It features a white skating boot against a background of a blue waterfall, copper mountains and evergreens—representing Great Falls of the Treasure State.

Los Angeles FSC's Skaters Auxiliary members have been busy with a number of projects, all their efforts aimed at one cause—the Competition Fund. The sale of tissue holders and aprons at Christmas was a success; Judy Saltz and Auxiliary President Virginia Bole worked hard sewing aprons. Another undertaking was a Chinese Auction; Mr. Turner as auctioneer was kept busy taking bids on many donated items. Members were also selling candy as another money-making scheme. A rummage sale was tentatively planned for March.

Nordic FSC juniors, seniors and their families skated together at the Christmas party on Dec. 21. Races, games, prizes and a hilarious "hockey exhibition" by non-skating fathers were some of the highlights. Juniors exchanged gifts. To complete the evening a jolly Santa handed out candy and favors. On Nov. 30, trophies were presented to juniors and seniors for passing rink tests with high grades. Exhibitions were skated by pros Sheila & Ron Priestley, Adrian Swan, Jerry Bovine and Sharon Kermont.

Canadian Clubs

Galt FSC intermediates turned out in force for their Christmas party on Dec. 19; games and a lively dance period were part of the program. The next day was the junior Christmas festivity highlighted by games and the presence of Santa who skated with the children and distributed candy. Exhibitions were given by Glenda Boughner, Ronnie Shaver, Linda Ann Ward and Neil Carpenter. This group also gave a dance demonstration. The club hosted the Western Ontario Championships in January and then members stepped into carnival preparations.

Glencoe Club reported that skating commenced on Dec. 15, although their rebuilding program is still underway and hours are restricted due to the presence of workmen. Members are enjoying the larger ice surface and are grateful to have home ice once again. Group instruction started on Jan. 7 for the various age groups. The first dance session was held the preceding day and the first group of exhibitions were also given as 13 skaters were preparing to enter the Prairie Sectionals. The adult social group got off to a flying start in January; 35 persons came out for the first time this season, and many of them had not been on skates since the fire which razed the club last year.

Stratford SC ran its club competitions during the Christmas Holidays at the Classic City Arena. The winners: Sandra Gray, novice; Peggy McGrath, juvenile; Cathy McGrath, beginners; Peggy Cross & Robert Whyte, beginners dance; Peggy McGrath & Janet Doherty, similar dance. Member Fred Gray has designed and constructed a handsome cabinet to house the trophies in the clubroom. The children's Christmas party took place on Dec. 20, featuring games and an appearance by Santa.

Toronto CS & CC initiated group instruction for seniors every Monday and Wednesday evening starting in January, with a particular dance featured each evening. The club championships were set for Jan. 10-12, and dance and figure tests on the 13th. The senior guest day was held on Jan. 1 and the junior guest day on the 4th. Seniors and guests enjoyed dances on Jan. 12th and 26th.

Unionville SC reports a banner year with an almost record enrollment. The skaters range in age from two (in the preschool session) on up. The season which opened with a registration tea on Oct. 13 was highlighted by the annual Christmas party for the juniors and intermediates. Later in December a Christmas dance proved so popular that another dance was scheduled, to celebrate Valentine's Day. The first test period was on Jan. 2 and another set for Mar. 6. The Mothers Auxiliary has been very active; this group looks after the club parties and serves coffee and cocoa at the busy preschoolers and housewives' sessions two mornings a week. A newsletter is sent monthly to all members. Button tests are held regularly for members not advanced enough for CFSa tests, and skaters have shown keen interest in these measures of their skating progress.

Upper Canada SC's Christmas activities included a party for the juniors to which Santa brought a gift for each child. The intermediates' program included games on the ice, a buffet and dancing, while the seniors shared attractively-wrapped box lunches following a square dance session. A large number of skaters took tests on Dec. 27, among them visitors from New York and New Jersey.

Vancouver SC reported two successful fund-raising projects: a Christmas raffle and a bazaar, which was conducted by the Ladies Auxiliary. A Christmas party brought joy to junior A and B groups on Dec. 22, and Santa was on hand to distribute stockings filled with candy. Mar.

Windsor FSC gave a Christmas party for juniors and intermediates on Dec. 22. The chock-full program had many features—a clown (Jack McLister) who delighted the youngsters, an hour of free skating, Santa Claus arriving on skates, the presentation of gifts to Mrs. Helen McLister (head monitor), Joe Irvaniw (arena helper), and pros Dave Mathewson and Carol Moran. The children enjoyed refreshments, arranged by the Treasurer, Mrs. Beckie Law. Highlighting the entertainment was a skating exhibition which included soloists Mary Lou Howieson, David Beatty and Lynn Moran, a delightful demonstration of free skating by seven- and eight-year-olds, dance couples, and four ladies—Janice Law, Andrea McLister, Lynn Brown and Kathy Westfall—who also performed dances.

Woodstock FSC reported that the second set of CFSA tests went well and that two more sessions were scheduled—Feb. 24 and Mar. 31. The club championships took place on Jan. 27 and the junior competitions were set for Feb. 10.
