ICE ABROAD

THE ST. IVEL ICE INTERNATIONAL

by Howard Bass

Britain's fourth annual St. Ivel Ice International (originally sponsored by Rotary Watches) produced some high quality drama on September 28–October 1 at London's Thames-side Richmond rink, with thirty-nine skaters from ten nations competing in the four events.

Brian Orser of Canada surprisingly defeated the favorite, David Santee, who had won the figures convincingly and came second to Orser in the short free, so began the long with an over-all advantage.

Orser, as he promised, landed the first triple Axel to be seen in Britain. He correctly completed this awesome leap, landing with admirable precision from the three-and-a-half mid-air rotations. He also included four other triples—Lutz, Salchow and two cherries.

Santee, the 1981 World championship silver medalist, featured three triple cherries and two triple Salchows despite being troubled by a pulled back muscle on his left side.

The seven judges split 5-2 in Orser's favor and placed the West German, Rudi Cerne, in third position.

David, like Charlie Tickner before him, set a commendable example by risking his reputation in a non-championship event when so highly ranked. Personally, I think his entry did him more good than harm, his obvious sportsmanship winning even more friends.

World champions Chris Dean and Jayne Torvill gained a resounding ice dance victory for the host nation. Their final free dance was a revelation, gaining sixes for presentation from the Russian, Austrian and Canadian judges.

They had never received so many before and, as Jayne observed afterwards, that they came from other countries made it even better. For a first performance of a newly arranged program, their efficiency was quite remarkable and, with plenty of time to add further polish, prospects looked bright for their defense of the world title in Copenhagen.

It was a memorable event for British skating. In Dance, Nicky Slater with Karen Barber, immaculate as ever, glided comfortably home for the runner-up spot and Steve Williams with Wendy Sessions took third place to complete a national clean sweep.

This was the first time that Steve and Wendy had defeated the fourth-placed Czechs, Jana Berankova and Jan Bartak, who were ninth at Hartford.

A grim women's tussle developed between Claudia Kristofics-Binder (Austria), Jackie Farrell (USA) and Tracey Wainman (Canada), with Karen Wood (Britain) in close attendance. Claudia, the tall Viennese who took the bronze at Hartford, dominated the figures in customary unflappable style, followed by Jackie, Tracey and Karen in that order.

The outlook quickly changed in the short free, which Jackie won impressively, and the Austrian, although also outpointed by Tracey, stayed above the Canadian to hold second over-all spot.

Claudia, first of the top four to skate the final round, will want to forget her long free, touching down when landing three jumps and falling from a fourth.

Karen agreeably stunned even her own fans with an opening combination of triple cherry with two double loops in a program marred only when tumbling from a triple Lutz after including a perfect one in the warm-up. But the British girl did well enough to clinch third place.

Jackie's highlights were triple flip and and triple cherry, but she fell on a double Axel and included too few spins to show how versatile she can be.

With the advantage of skating last, Tracey must have realized that she needed only to exercise prudent caution. She landed a good triple Salchow and decided

On Motivation

What is motivation? Are there ways in which motivation can be instilled into the skater?

I believe that motivation is part of the makeup of an individual due partly to upbringing, environment, physical health, available opportunities and social pressures. Motivation means having initiative, ambition and a great desire to win. It is a condition that occurs when an individual falls in love with what he is doing with a passion that surmounts the usual sacrifices encountered in daily living, in order to concentrate completely on achieving an objective.

If you do not have this love, perhaps you are working for the wrong reasons. You can be truly motivated when you are trying to achieve the goals you have set for yourself, not what others have set for you.

Children, who have adults around them in their early life who expect a great deal from them, usually expect a great deal from themselves.

To be motivated you must have high standards to reach out for; realistic goals that will lead you towards a feeling of conviction and commitment. You get what you want only by knowing what you want, but still remain flexible as your wants change.

A mistake that some people make is assuming that all skaters have the same goal. One skater can be highly motivated towards becoming a teacher; another towards being a show skater. Not everyone is motivated towards the ultimate "gold". The important thing is to set the goal you want for yourself right now. It is alright to change as you progress. They are your goals—no one else's—and you are entitled to change them, and keep highly motivated towards your existing one.

Sometimes it helps if you don't look too far in the future. It may be best to deal with present goals to accomplish, and keep the attention on them now.

Set your goals for something you really believe in and can put your heart into. Carefully define what it is. Many goals are not achieved because they were not made clear at the beginning. Give yourself the proper time to accomplish each one. You must believe that you are capable of achieving your goal and keep an optimistic viewpoint. Everything depends on how persistent and concentrated you are.

Pursue your potential systematically, setting new goals as the present ones are fulfilled, without using clever devices for running away from problems. Goals are achieved by effective approaches to problems. Experimenting to gain the most effective approach is necessary to success. Remain flexible and experimental.

Keep yourself open to new ideas. One might be the solution to a problem. You cannot be expected to solve all problems right away, but you can minimize them with the proper attitude. Don't focus too long on your difficulties before thinking of ways to change them.

Encouraging yourself to be curious, eager, and questioning, as well as experimenting with different approaches towards your work, will give you a feeling of self-discovery. There is so much potential ability in human beings. Seldom is it used up in a lifetime. Becoming enthusiastic and curious about the possibility of discovering more potential within, can be highly motivating.

This dormant potential is like an energy force held imprisoned until you release it and put it to work. Go after your goals within your capabilities and training, with determination and enthusiasm.

When you can visualize yourself as the person you want to be, achieving your goal, you will have the motivation to try and make the ideal in your mind a reality.

not to attempt another. It was enough for victory, with a self-recriminating Jackie runner-up.

The small entry in the pairs, as in most internationals these days, reflected a sadly diminishing participation in this division. The Canadian winners, Lorri Baier and Lloyd Eisler, led throughout and, against the international trend, amplified a recent resurgence of pair skating in their country.

Runners-up USA's Vicki Heasley and her second partner, Peter Oppegard, who had been together for less than a year, revealed a good style and their long free was well devised and presented. Peter showed good strength in lifts and one could envisage bright prospects after a little more time together.

The home entry, thrust into the deep end after only three months in harness, acquitted themselves well in such circumstances. Sue Garland, eighth in the world with Robert Daw at Hartford, was steered this time by Ian Jenkins. Tall and powerfully built, he seemed physically well suited for the still petite Sue, who has already acquired quite a wealth of international experience for a girl of fifteen. With a little more time to improve cohesion and understanding, these two could become quite a future force.

MUSEUM NEWSLETTER

In conjunction with the USFSA Board of Directors' meeting held in Colorado Springs, October 2-3, the USFSA Hall of Fame and Museum opened its newest exhibition, "The Legendary Gillis Grafström". (In the history of Winter Olympics, Grafström is the only person to earn a medal in four consecutive Olympiads, winning the Gold medal in 1920, 1924, and 1928 and the Silver medal in 1932.)

Highlighting the display is Mr. Grafström's beautiful and unique Swedish National Skating Costume, ca. 1920. This costume is all hand made and was presented to Mr. Grafström by the Swedish Government.

On October 5, 1981, USFSA Hall of Famer, Peggy Fleming was inducted into the new Hall of Fame of the Women's Sports Foundation. Peggy is the first figure skater to receive this great honor and our congratulations go out to her.

Donations during the month of October:

Permanent

Skating books, Programs and Protocols;

Four (4) Summer, and four (4) Winter Olympic Copper Coins from The People's Republic of China; Two (2) silver coins from 1980 Winter Olympics (Poland and "Republique Libanaise").

— Mr. Benjamin T. Wright

Skating Programs and Protocols, Skating Memorabilia — Mr. Charles A. DeMore

Three (3) short Skating Skirts, ca. 1957-59; 1961 Black chiffon Skating Dress — Dalean Greenlee

The Staff at the USFSA Hall of Fame and Museum wish you all the Happiest of Holiday Seasons!!

THE ICETTES: A HARD WORKING PRECISION TEAM FROM SAN DIEGO

Nobody said it would be easy, but the extra effort needed to perfect a program for one of ice skating's most prestigious events, The U.S. National Championships, paid off for a young team from the San Diego Figure Skating Club.

The Iceettes worked all year to maintain four different routines, polished to perfection, for The 1981 U.S. Championships in San Diego. They skated every night and for the exhibition on Sunday. Each night they provided the color guard, performed perfect different routines in different costumes and sold Memorial Fund buttons during the intermission. The month prior to Nationals they quickly learned a special routine to honor the sponsor, The Travelers Insurance Companies, and performed this for Wednesday's opening ceremonies.

On April 4th and 5th the Iceettes traveled to London, Ontario, Canada to compete in the 1981 Canadian International Precision Skating Championships. Eighty-one teams competed in the event, the Iceettes placed third in the Junior Division of thirty-six teams, and were proud to earn the privilege to compete in the Challenge Cup, where the top three from each of three divisions compete. The Iceettes were the only U.S. team to place in the Junior Division and one of two to qualify for the Challenge Cup. The senior team for the Fraser Figure Skating Club, Fraser, Michigan, being the other U.S. Team. Prior to the Canadian Competition, the team performed in the Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens in the Vickie Show, a benefit for the blind, featuring Toller Cranston, all 1981 Canadian National Champions, two blind skaters and included the Metropolitan Toronto Police Pipe Band in full dress kilt. The Iceettes were given special Vickie pins and ribbons in appreciation of their appearance.

time security job at a department store when he approached the suspect. Barry followed the woman outside the store and took her car's license number. As he returned to the store, the suspect ran him down, throwing him through the plate glass store window. Barry's legs and face were severely injured. Barry and Kim Krohn, whom he has skated with for the past eight years, have been the Pacific Coast ice dance champions for four consecutive years, and were bronze medalists at the 1981 U.S. National Championships in San Diego.

the 1981 Board of Directors Meeting ~ Report

by Ruth L. Jackson

There were many new faces at the Board of Directors Meeting held at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs on October 2 and 3, 1981. Those recognized by President Oscar T. Iobst, Jr., were as follows: Mrs. Ronald C. Johnson, George B. Ludlow, Jr., Mrs. Nancy C. Meyer and Miss Grace Moore, Eastern Representatives; Roger A. Glenn, Mrs. John A. Leiter, Jack L. Might and J. Barlow Nelson, Midwestern Representatives; Raymond C. Alperth and Mrs. Paula Naughton, Pacific Coast Representatives; Judy Blumberg, Richard Dalley, Scott Hamilton, Priscilla Hill and Hal C. Marron, Athlete Representatives, and Evy Scotvold, Professional.

The president outlined his intensive activity during the summer months and reported that he was recently appointed to the USOC Games Preparation Committee. The USFSA is fortunate to have a voice on that important committee.

Finances continued to be an important consideration of the Board of Directors. Harold Hiltzik, Treasurer, gave a comparative review and analysis of operations for the fiscal years 1980 and 1981, prepared by him and Susan Wallace, Controller. In order to cover increased costs and partially decrease deficits in the production costs of Skating, an amendment to the USFSA By-Laws to increase the registration fees from $8.00 to $10.00 for those members who receive a subscription to the magazine was approved for recommendation to the 1982 Governing Council. Suggestions for decreasing the costs of Skating were also offered, including the reduction in the number of color pages, a raise in the subscription rate to non-members and to foreign residents, efforts to collect delinquent accounts, and wider distribution of price lists through mailings of Skating.

Another By-Law change to be recommended will allow clubs to be dropped from membership if they have open accounts.

The new computer at National Headquarters was a source of interest when Board Members visited the building on October 3. They were delighted to see their own complete record as to tests passed, club membership, judging status, etc., printed out for them in an instant. With the club membership now at a new plateau of 40,000, the capacities of this computer will result in rapid and efficient data needed for tests, judges appointments, registration checks and numerous other programs now being developed by Frederick W. Amery, who is setting up the new programs.

While the members toured the office they were also treated to a tour of the Museum and Hall of Fame by Pat Cataldi, Curator, and delightful refreshments prepared by Jean Winder. The museum continues to increase in its attractive and informative exhibits with skating dresses of the Champions of the past and the unique handmade costumes of Gillis Grafström. Pat Cataldi was still enjoying the thrill of her visit to the White House with President Reagan when she and Roy Winder attended the opening of the traveling exhibit entitled "Champions of American Sport" at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

During the business sessions, nine applications for reinstatement as amateurs in figure skating were approved by the Board of Directors: Jean Warren Carlsen, Clarice Kozlowski Chinn, Stephen J. Eichenberger, Joan C. Hyldoft, Bonnie Carlson King, Dorothy Tierney Lauth, Carol Majdalany, Dolores Del Gaudio Nesnow and Lois Moloney Reidinger.

Several proposals by committees were approved. Those proposals, which still must be approved by the 1982 Governing Council before becoming effective, are:

Competitions

- To increase the sanctions fee from $10.00 to $25.00 where a charge is made for spectators, and from $5.00 to $10.00 where no charge is made in non-qualifying competitions. (CR 5.04)

TOP: John Nicks, Coaches' representative, with Michael Booker, ISIA President, and Stacey Smith, Athlete representative.

MIDDLE: Athlete representatives, Richard Daley and Hal Marron.

BOTTOM: Al Beard with Vahona Gerber, USFSA National Headquarters staff, and Franklin S. Nelson, M.D., Chairman, Sports Medicine Committee.

- To provide that test qualifications as of the date of entries for the Regional Competition govern for the entire competition season. (See 35.08)
- To restrict any registered skater who takes part in an unsanctioned competition or other event requiring a sanction under the competition rules from participation in any USFSA Competition for a period of one year following the act.
- To transfer St. Joseph, Missouri and the Greater Kansas City Area Clubs to the Southwestern Region from the Upper Great Lakes Region.

Dance

- To give the sponsoring club the option of determining whether skaters will skate individually in the final round or in a group of four finalists in non-qualifying competitions, provided the procedures are stated in the announcement of the competition.
- To provide that only one roll along the side of the ice shall be danced on the Fourteenstep when flights are individually skated and two rolls when two or more couples skate the dance in flight.

Membership

- To require a member club which uses the Principal Skating Headquarters of another member club for an event to have permission from the home club to do so.
- To change the date in MR 3.01 from March 15 to February 15 for approval of new clubs to be voted upon at the succeeding Governing Council meeting.

Sanctions

- To raise the assessment fee for carnivals and exhibitions using three or more World or Olympic Team members in the event from 5% to 10% of the gross receipts received by the non-skating related organization. (SR 10.018)

- To forgive the 2% assessment fee on gross receipts on all sanctioned carnivals and exhibitions produced for the benefit of the USFSA Memorial Fund.

(In separate action the Board of Directors approved allocation of all monies from the assessment fees under SR 10.018 to the USFSA Memorial Fund, which action will take effect immediately.)

Tests

- To revise TR 16.01 to allow a professional to partner an amateur in Pair Tests.

Other committee recommendations approved by the Board of Directors were:

International Committee

A plan for the selection of skaters for the 1984 Olympic Winter Games was approved for recommendation to the Olympic Committee. Selection of Olympic Team members will be made by the International Committee on the basis of its evaluation of the overall record of skaters participating in the following competitions:

- (a) National Championships 1982, 1983, 1984
- (b) National Sports Festival 1982, 1983
- (c) World Championships 1982, 1983
- (d) World Junior Championships 1982, 1983, 1984

A separate Olympic Trial must also be held and participation in it may have to be included, but this Trial may not be necessary if an exhibition is held as in 1980. No specific weights are applied to the listed competitions.

An expenditure of $1,500 for coaches' expenses, not to exceed a total of $15,000 and pro-rated for coaches who have both USA skaters and foreign skaters was approved. The money to cover this expenditure will be derived from proceeds of a two-day tour following the National Championships, also approved by the Board of Directors. The tour will consist of exhibitions on February 1, 1982, in St. Louis, Missouri, and on February 2, 1982, at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Another tour was approved to start on April 26, 1983, in Boston with performances in 15 other cities, ending on May 20, 1983.

Judges Committee

Recommendations for appointments were approved as follows:

To Gold Test Judge — James W. Disbrow, Buffalo SC; Paula Ziegler, SC of Boston; Beverly Arneson, Colorado SC; Dorothy Eschman, Ann Arbor FSC; William Suggs, Lansing SC; William Wall, Shaker FSC; Christine M. Pozanac, Glacier Falls FSC; and Guido F. Sordelli, Anchorage FSC.

To Senior Competition Judge — Philippa M. Coughlin, Bridgeport SC; Barbara Holland, Columbus FSC; and Guido F. Sordelli, Anchorage FSC.

To Gold Test Judge — Dorothy Nyman, Cleveland SC; Arlene M. Sibrell, Denver FSC; Liz Vaughn, Kansas City FSC; and Sharon Wright, Greater Milwaukee FSC.

To Senior Dance Competition Judge — William Wall, Shaker FSC.

A procedure for improving the performance of judges to be implemented on a trial basis was approved. This procedure would involve an experiment in the use of the referee as an independent judge and moderator for a review discussion with the judges at qualifying competitions.

Another procedure to alleviate the expense and time involved in trial judging of competitions would allow the acceptance of trial judging papers at non-qualifying competitions under certain conditions.

Membership

New clubs granted Interim Probationary Membership were reported. They are: Blue Ridge FSC, Boone, NC; Greater Lynne Valley SC, Lynn, MA; Hudson Valley FSC, Poughkeepsie, NY; Rivers Edge FSC, South St. Paul, MN; Tri-County FSC, Farmington, MN; and Ranier FSC, Tacoma, WA.

International

Approved for recommendation to the ISU for appointment as World Judge were Franklin Nelson, M.D., Claire Ferguson, and Joan Gruber; as International Judge, Roger Glenn and Joan Burns; and as International Dance Judge, Margaret Faulkner and Thomas Easton. Janet Griffith was approved to take the exam for World Judge appointment.

Following a report of the ISU Representative that the ISU Technical Committee had adopted an amendment to Rule 312-4 (SSR 1.235) to provide in the event of three failures on the same foot in a compulsory figure that the judges must deduct five-sixths of the mark they would have given had the failures not occurred, other proposals were approved by the Board of Directors for recommendation to the ISU. They involved (1) a rule to require residence in a foreign country for at least one year in order to be eligible to compete for the national association of that country (with the consent of the national association of the country of which a citizen); (2) the draw of the starting order of competitions in the original set-pattern dance from the result of the three prescribed dances, provision for determination of a separate result in ice dancing for the three prescribed dances, the original set-pattern dance and free dancing, respectively and change the multiplying factors for ice dancing; (3) permission for national associations to enter three competitors in an event of an ISU Championship if a representative of said association was placed among the top three competitors in that event in the immediate preceding championships; (4) discontinuance of the use of Honorary ISU Referees and Judges to judge ISU Tests; and (5) allowing music for the compulsory dances in the ISU to continue for at least 20 seconds beyond the minimum required for the dance. These proposals will be reviewed in May at the Governing Council Meeting in the light of the agenda of the ISU Congress to be published by February 1, 1982. Delegates to the 1982 Congress will be Franklin Nelson, M.D., Benjamin T. Wright, Jr., and Oscar T. Iobst, Jr.

Mrs. Anne Gerli was appointed as Chairman of a committee to investigate the securing of housing for the USFSA Figure Skating Team at the 1984 Olympics and to take steps to procure that housing.

The Chairman of the Hall of Fame and Museum Committee announced that a library of music for ice dancing was offered to the Museum by Professor Richard Stephenson. Recordings will be made for the use of the music, but the originals will remain at the Museum.

Members of the Board of Directors were privileged to hear from several guests. Pieter Kollen of the PGA announced that the PGA representatives enjoyed the opportunity for input at the USFSA meetings.

Stating that he was very impressed with the USFSA Museum and that the USFSA was providing a real service in preserving the heritage of figure skating, Michael R. Booker, ISIA President, expressed the thought that "if the USFSA doesn't do it, who will?" and said it was well worth the cost.

The ISIA President urged more freedom of participation in exhibitions and adjustment to the inevitable smaller rink size. In concluding remarks, he reported that the first ISIA National Competition held this year involved 987 skaters and netted $10,000, all of which was turned back to membership.

Following a presentation concerning a voluntary plan for liability insurance for clubs at a group rate, a committee consisting of Roger Glenn, Chairman, John Shoemaker, Harold Hiltzik and J. Barlow Nelson was appointed to consider insurance plans for clubs and make recommendations to the Board.

Pursuant to the introduction of a possible ban on triple jumps to prevent injuries to skaters in a report of the Sports Medicine Committee, there was much discussion. Although most participants seemed to feel that such a ban should be guided by the Medical Profession, Professionals said one has to contend with the spirit of the skaters and that adequate warm-up was a deterrent to injuries. Others stated that balance and beauty was more important than a series of sometimes violent jumps and that deterring skaters from using triple jumps might help them to do better jumps. It was agreed that such a ban should start at the ISU level rather than the grass-roots level as beginning competitors emulate the champions. A committee recommendation on such a ban was declared urgent for the May, 1982 meeting.

The USFSA Board of Directors has accepted the challenge of changing conditions and is showing that it is responsive to the needs of the figure skating world. ●

“My invention has for its object, first, attaching the skate securely to the boot of the wearer without the use of straps; second, giving a degree of elasticity to the forward bearing which supports the ball of the foot, and third, dispensing with posts or standards between the foot-piece and runner.” Such was the state of the art of skate design when James H. McGuire of Rochester, New York received his patent for “Improvement in Skates” in 1862.

In Article 1, section 8, the Constitution provided the foundation for the first patent laws by stating, “The Congress shall have the power . . . to promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries.” A few years later, President George Washington signed “An Act to Promote the Useful Arts” which formally initiated the patent system. At that time, Thomas Jefferson

GENIUS and INVENTION...

A Look at Some Patented Skates of the 1800's

by Brett Farnum

Few people know about the requirement put on inventors of the 1800's to supply the United States Patent Office with not only drawings, specifications, and fee, but also a scaled workable model to demonstrate the novelty of one's invention. The “Skate” mentioned above is one of these original models submitted to the Patent Office, and granted Patent Number 36,910 on November 11, 1862. The model itself is fascinating (complete with brass-shaped heel), as is the history of the Patent Office.

assumed the responsibilities of “Patent Board” Commissioner and presided over the office with Secretary of War Henry Knox and Attorney General Edmund Randolph.

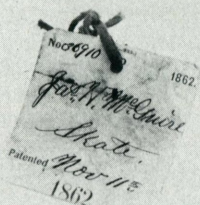

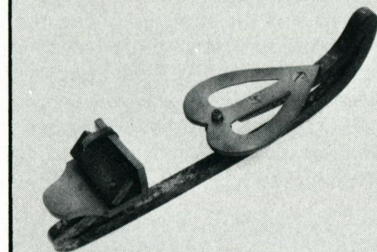

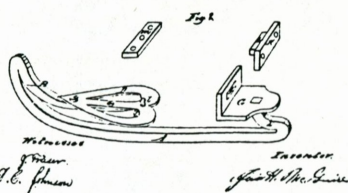

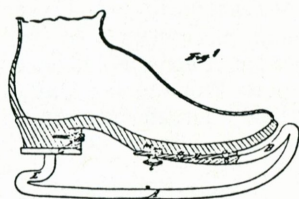

Until 1836, the patent system was haphazard at best. Many inventors were filing the same claims, and all the cases ended up in the courts; it was costing inventors a great deal of money to market their genius. It was only a registration system, not one of examination. Finally the “Patent Act of 1836” was passed to reform

During the centennial year, Everett H. Barney of Springfield, Massachusetts received a patent for his Ice Skate. Another improvement for securing a boot to the skate, this one was to have the side bar clamps on both the toe and heel activated by the turning of just one screw. With the long blade, could this have been for speed skating? Patent Number 176,827, May 2, 1876.

Ice Skate inventions came from all parts of the country. Charles Gooch resided in Cincinnati when he designed his improvement in skates. His patent claims read, "The present invention relates to clamps for securing skates to the soles of boots and shoes, which clamps are of such construction that they can readily be applied and adapted to any of the ordinary wooden frame skates which are provided with straps for strapping them to the foot of the wearer." Certainly a far cry from skates today, but it was the state of the art then. Patent Number 64,304, April 30, 1867.

One of the older models in the collection, the Ice Skate was patented by N.C. Sanford in 1852, and assigned Patent Number 9,079. One amazing fact is this model has survived through 129 years of being packed in boxes, moving across the country, and general neglect, but the original calligraphic tag is still bleached white. Also, the paper tag in the middle of the skate is a receiving tag attached by the Patent Office upon receipt for identification.

Any chance you can identify this patent model? We know it is an ice skate, but the calligraphic tag has been lost or destroyed in one of the fires that devastated the Patent Office, or in years of storage all the patent models have been put through. Probably another method for attaching shoes to skates, the blade is steel and the rest of the model is shiny brass.

the current laws and force inventors to prove the novelty of his or her invention. Every patentee was to furnish a scaled, workable model under twelve inches square (cubed) to substantiate his written claims.

"Patent models", as they came to be known later, immediately flowed into the Patent Office, eventually flooding the halls of the building. The Patent Office became a "Museum of Models" as display cases were set up, and the models arranged for visitors to see. Until 1877, when fire ravaged one-third of the estimated 200,000 models, the models were a grand attraction for all those that visited the nation's capital. By 1880 the models were piling up on desks, window sills, and stairways so a ten-year-old Act was reinforced, ending the patent model requirement. Still, some inventors failed to heed the decree and a few models trickled in as late as 1907.

Having been moved into dead storage in 1893, the models were taking up quite a bit of valuable space, so President Calvin Coolidge decided that the days of the patent models were up, ordering his Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover to dispose of them. The Smithsonian Institution was invited to select any models they wished for future display, and the presidents of large companies were asked to select the models by their founders. All told, only 4,100 models were disposed of in this manner, the rest being put up for sale in 1926.

Until 1941, the models were owned by a large variety of people. The first owner wished to open up a museum but the stock market crash of 1929 depleted his available funds. The second owner, a group of businessmen, realized their visions of huge profits would never come true so they sold out. The third owner met an even worse fate and had to seek protection under the Federal Bankruptcy Laws in early 1941. At that time an auction was held in Foley Square, NY. There were only two bidders, one was a gentleman representing Japanese junk interests in scrap metal who planned to create all the packing crates and send the metal to Japan; the other gentleman was O. Rundle Gilbert, an aspiring young auctioneer from upstate New York.

Fortunately for us all, Mr. Gilbert was successful in acquiring the estimated 100,000 models, and opened a museum some years later. By 1973, his other business interests were too time consuming, so he sought a buyer for the collection. Periodic auctions were held in Garrison, NY and finally a new owner was found: Mr. Cliff Petersen.

Mr. Petersen had been collecting models on a piece-meal basis since spying a tiny ad in the May 1973 Smithsonian. By the summer of 1979 he decided to undertake the huge job of finding suitable homes for the remaining 40,000 unique models. Instead of sending all the models to his Tara-like Beverly Hills home, he decided to leave them in Garrison—escaping a potentially damaging cross country trip. There a dedicated staff of three opened the remaining crates that had not seen the light of day since the 1926 packing: photographs were taken, data sheets filled out, and the information forwarded to California where everything was entered into a computer. When 360 models were entered a 220 page illustrated catalogue was produced including a detailed description of the model, photo, and reduced copy of the patent drawing, then distributed to interested museums and individuals for a nominal sum.

In the continuing unpacking process, one never knows what will turn up . . . sometimes there will be a model by a famous gentleman in the likes of Thomas Edison or J.E.B. Stuart, or a relatively unknown like Mr. McGuire. So far, over thirty ice skate models have been unpacked and catalogued . . . but who knows what else will turn up in the remaining crates.

If you would like to find out more, and perhaps help save one small part of America's inventive heritage, please feel free to write: Cliff Petersen Collection, 2444 Wilshire Blvd., Suite #400, Santa Monica, CA 90403.

SKATE AMERICA

by Howard Bass

REPORT

Skate America has come to stay. There can be no question that it must be a regular fixture. On the rink where Robin Cousins won Olympic gold twenty months earlier, a warmly hospitable Lake Placid again played host in the fall to many of the world's foremost skaters—fifty-seven from thirteen nations contesting the four events.

The difference from February 1980 was as if a Madison Square Garden-sized crowd had vacated the scene to reveal more agreeable virtues of this picturesque Adirondack mountain resort, in mood much more suited to its name and enhanced by autumnal red maple leaves instead of snow.

The outcome of the competition provided key form pointers to the approaching World Championships in Copenhagen. That three of the events produced home victors, with runners-up in the other, reflected a general national upsurge and wider spread of strength.

Perhaps most significant was the emergence of a delightful seventeen-year-old Broadmoor SC Californian miss with a name none too familiar when the week began, but on everyone's lips at the end.

For Vikki de Vries, Skate America '81 will become specially remembered as the occasion which launched her on a voyage surely destined for top international honors. Throughout the Ladies' figures, she was a steady second best to Claudia Kristofics-Binder, the world bronze medalist and arguably one of the most accurate tracers of compulsories since the days of her Austrian compatriot, Trixi Schuba.

Elaine Zayak had been a firm favorite before the event began and, as world runner-up to Denise Biellmann at Hartford, had rated number one in most minds since early summer, when the Swiss turned professional.

The SC of New York heroine's best figure was the paragraph bracket, which put her in second spot until a less impressive change-loop dropped her to fifth in the compulsories behind the Japanese, Reiko Kobayashi, and the Seattle SC Washingtonian, Rosalynn Sumners.

An intimation of the shock result to come was apparent in the short free when Vikki displayed high quality spins and jumps in an entertainingly fast sequence molded particularly well to apt music.

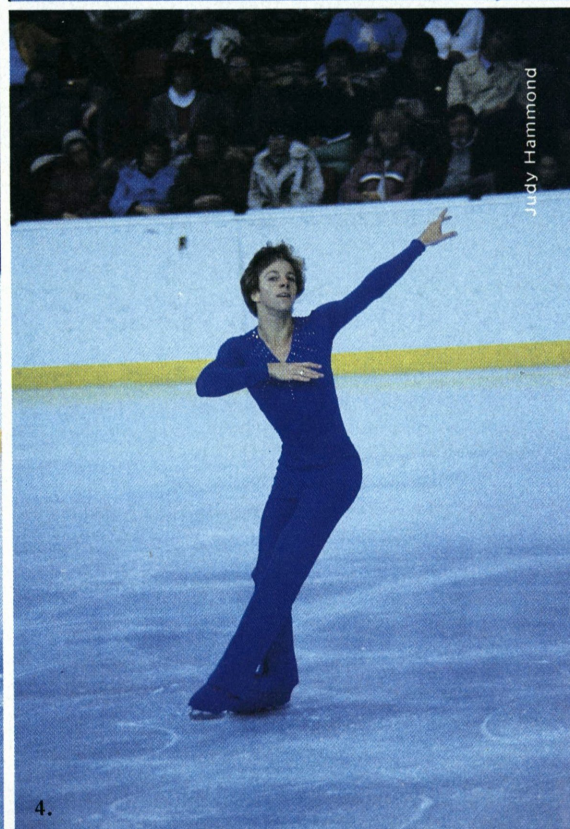

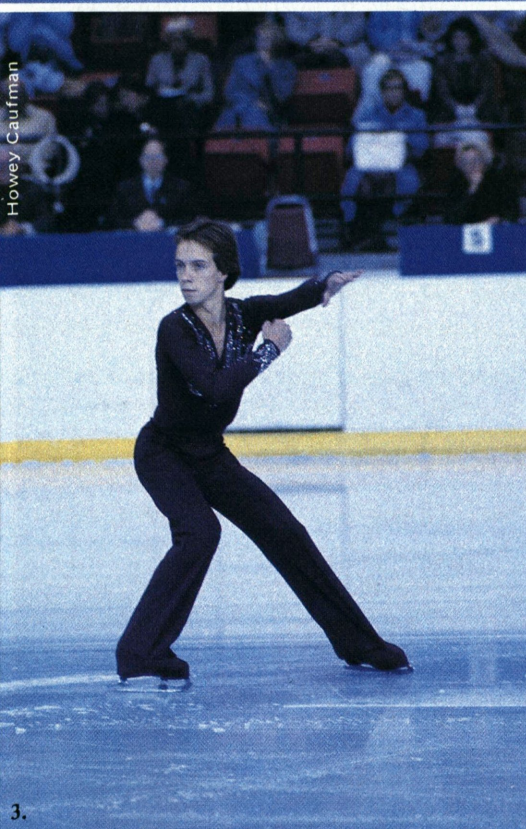

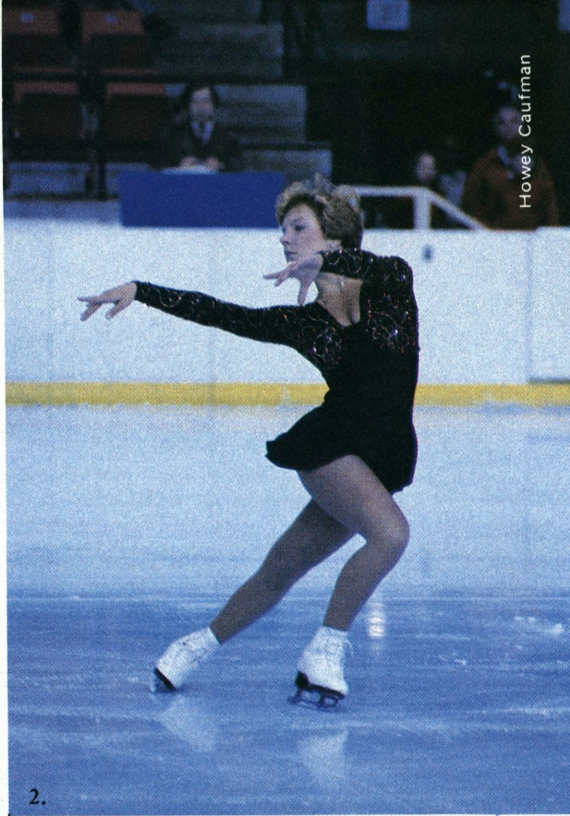

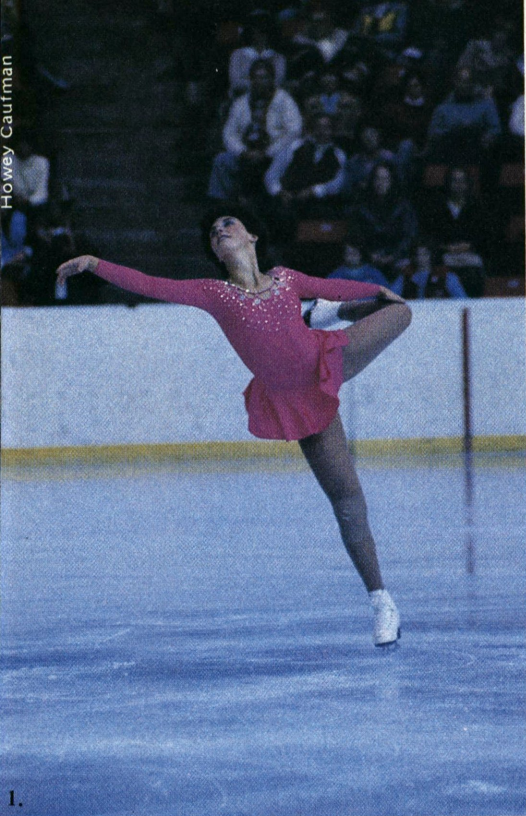

Both she and Elaine combined triple toe-loop with the obligatory double toe-Salchow, while the more cautious Claudia opted for double loop. Vikki won the short, with Elaine next best and Claudia, third, dropped to second over-all.

The fifteen participants between them made only two major errors in the required elements, each on a double Axel, which must make this the highest general level reached in any Ladies' international short free.

Vikki was first of the three leaders to skate the long and demonstrated a commendable all-round capability, her four triples—three toe-loops and a toe-Salchow—punctuated with better spins than those of her main rivals.

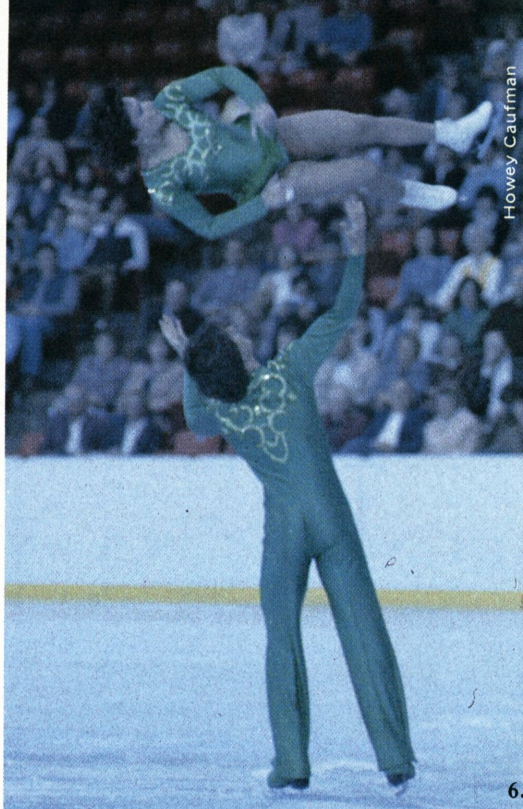

Elaine, slimmer than a few months earlier, jumped with deceptive ease in relaxed style, opening with a double Lutz into a triple toe-loop, the latter twice repeated. She was the only girl to land a triple loop, but touched down, or fell out of, a triple Salchow and, as at Hartford, was found a little wanting in number and variety of spins.

Claudia's only triple was a Salchow in a well-controlled, typically careful program with no serious error. Vikki gained a comfortable victory as top scorer in both free skating sections and Elaine clinched second place over Claudia by a tie-break.

The most artistically presented four minutes came from fourth-placed Rosalynn. Every jump she attempted was cleanly and precisely landed, including two triple Salchows and two triple toe-loops. A little improvement in her spins can make her a highly competent free skater. There was much in this contest to suggest an excitingly close finish at the nationals and maybe also in Copenhagen.

Few will quarrel that Scotty Hamilton was Lake Placid's major box-office attraction, but a late possibility of his non-appearance was very real. The little man with the big heart from Philadelphia SC & HS spent the day before the figures in bed with a high fever.

Determined to take part, he somehow managed good enough etchings to lead after the compulsories, followed by the West German, Rudi Cerne, and the Canadian, Gary Beacom, with Brian Boitano from Silver Edge SC and Robert Wagenhoffer of Arctic Blades SC seventh and eighth respectively.

Those aware how rough Scotty felt were hardly surprised when he fell in the short from a triple toe-loop. Robert made no mistake with his and won the section. Rudi tumbled from his and also touched down on the double Salchow, so the long free began with Hamilton still ahead and by a margin appearing reasonably safe.

Looking once more his chirpy self on the final day, Scotty put the issue beyond doubt despite three uncharacteristic lapses, two-footing one double Axel, touching down on another and touching down again from a triple toe-loop. But he landed five triples well—two toe-loops, two Salchows and a Lutz.

His skillfully devised four-and-a-half minutes was otherwise beyond reproach and fondly remembered for its brief "bogus ballet" comedy routine to the Pizzicato music from "Silvia."

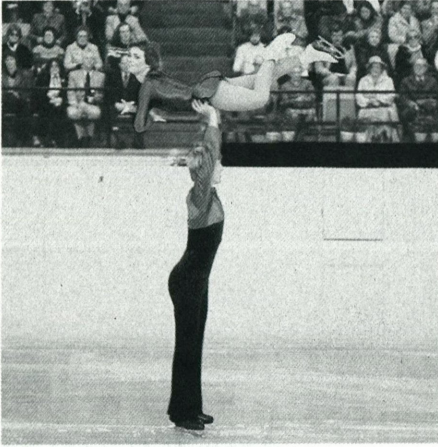

Second only to Scotty in the long free, Wagenhoffer featured six triples—two toe-loops, two Salchows, a loop and a Lutz—and a spectacular sequence of four butterflies.

Brian completed a noteworthy clean sweep for the host country with seven triples—two toe-loops, two Salchows, a loop, a toe-Salchow and a Lutz—and touched down when attempting a second triple toe-Salchow. It was good to see from him two well-held spreads, a much-neglected element these days.

An absorbing North American pairs duel saw the SC of Wilmington sister and brother Kitty and Peter Carruthers finally yield to the Canadians, Barbara Underhill and Paul Martini. The Americans led in the short, excelling with the double hand-to-hand loop lift and the closed low spin parallel, while the Ontario twosome were noted for a well held forward inside death spiral.

Despite faulty timing in one lift, the Canadians rendered an inspired long free, highlighted by another smooth and unhurried death spiral, a neat double twist lift and two neat throw Axels.

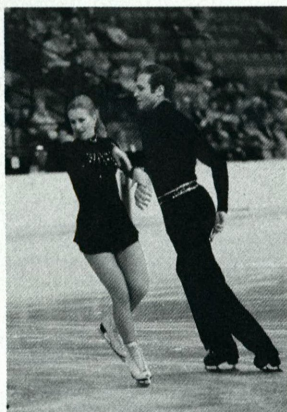

The Carruthers, ideally suited in height, matched their rivals almost move for move, eventually to lose by a 4-3 judges' verdict. The two pairs, one elated and the other dejected, shared obvious mutual admiration at the end.

The third-placed Russians, Oleg Vasiliev with his less experienced partner, Elena Valova, were very artistic and looked likely to become a respected force.

The other Wilmington entry, Lea Ann Miller and William Fauver, fourth, seemed potentially good show skaters, such was their skill in presentation, ending with a superb, close-hugging pair spin with no extended leg, almost simulating a rotating ball.

Fifth-placed Maria di Domenico and Burt Lancon, from Los Angeles FSC, looked good together and Burt proved a powerful overhead lifter, though one such move literally never got off the ground.

The best ice dancers in Lake Placid were the host nation's Judy Blumberg and Mike Seibert of Broadmoor SC, for whom a medal in Copenhagen may not be beyond reach.

While they assumed control throughout the contest, second place was uncertain to the end, when the five judges divided 3-2 to put the Russians, Elena Garanina and Igor Zavozin, fractionally above Britain's Karen Barber and Nicky Slater.

The eventual winners twice had cause for concern during their original set-pattern dance to blues rhythm. First, their music dried up midway through and they elected to re-skate from the beginning. Then Judy fell backwards and Mike badly jolted a thumb on the ice to prevent his falling body injuring his partner.

Both with attractive personalities, their very deliberate and confident steps carried the day in an enterprising free dance with many original touches.

The Soviet duo were much better in their free than in the three compulsories, for which their marks appeared somewhat generous, particularly in the opening blues. But they certainly merited higher scores in the free in spite of a separation half the width of the rink instead of the maximum permitted arm's length.

The British impressed with consistent arm and leg alignment in a very innovative presentation. Elisa Spitz and Scott Gregory, fourth, helped to keep Wilmington prominent and, from Academy FSC, Nancy Berghoff and James Bowser, seventh, were an always elegant couple noted for their erect posture.

People, Places & Faces

The most amazing thing about this incident is that after much therapy I am back 100% (although a slightly painful 100%). I feel I owe much of my recovery to all of you across this country. Your concern, warm wishes, and inspiration are only matched by the love shown me by my partner Kim and my coach Darlene.

I realize that I can never meet and personally thank all of you. So, I want everyone to know that my performance at Nationals this year will not be just a vie for a berth on the World Team. It is my way of thanking everyone. Kim and I are working hard to make this performance worthy of all your care shown to me.

Very sincerely,

Barry Hagan

BEREAVEMENTS...

Margaret J. Sanders, "Skating Artist", died in her home suddenly at age eighty on March 31, 1981.

Since May 1928, Margaret's art has been featured in Skating magazine 268 times, and was featured in the June 1980 issue (see June 1980, p. 16).

Margaret skated at the New Haven, CT SC during the 1920's, and was a frequent visitor to The SC of Boston where she also skated and judged. She passed the Fourth Figure Test in 1936, and the Silver Dance in 1939.

She is survived by a sister, Dorothea Sanders Van Brunt, and nephew Richard Van Brunt, both active in skating.

Rolf E. Hessler, of Cleveland, Ohio, passed away on Saturday, October 3, 1981 following a long illness. He was fifty-eight.

Rolf, a graduate of West Virginia University, served as Treasurer of the USFSA for eight years, 1973 through 1981. He also served on the Association's Executive Committee for three years and was a USFSA National Accountant.

He is survived by his wife, Frances and daughters, Gail and Carol. His family suggests contributions in his memory be made to the USFSA Memorial Fund, 20 First St., Colorado Springs, CO 80906 or the American Cancer Society.

James G. Freeman, Low Test Figure Judge and a member of the SC of Wilmington, passed away on October 10, 1981 after a long illness. He was forty-two. He is survived by his wife, Miriam; a daughter, Lynn Ann, and two sons, James R. and Jonathan D.

1982 USFSA HALL OF FAME NOMINATION FORM

All nominees for the USFSA Hall of Fame are selected by the general public. Nominees are not limited to living persons nor to U.S. citizens and need not be members of the USFSA. Any person meeting the qualifications below is eligible.

Use this form to nominate those persons that are worthy of election to membership in the Hall of Fame and who meet the qualifications in any one of the categories listed below. Only one nomination form per person each year will be accepted and no more than ten nominees in total may be included on each form.

1. Skaters from throughout the world who have compiled an outstanding competitive record and who have made a noteworthy contribution in style or technique and have been retired from competitive skating for at least ten years.
2. Persons who have made a noteworthy contribution to figure skating in a non-skating capacity through service to an amateur figure skating association and have not been active in such capacity for at least five years.
3. Persons who have made a noteworthy contribution to figure skating in a non-amateur capacity. Non-teaching professionals must have been retired at least five years, while teaching professionals must have at least twenty-five years of experience as such.

Following compilation of all nominations received by the closing date of February 1, 1982, the 27 Hall of Fame Electors (3 from each Region) will vote for the eligible nominees in each category. The announcement and induction of the successful candidates into the Hall of Fame will take place at the Annual Meeting of the USFSA Governing Council in May 1982:

My nominees to the Hall of Fame are:

Name

Address (City, State, Zip Code)

Clip or reproduce the form and mail to Mr. Theodore G. Clarke, Chairman, Hall of Fame Electors, c/o USFSA, 20 First Street, Colorado Springs, CO 80906.

Deadline for receipt of this form is February 1, 1982.

COMPETITIVE ELEGANCE

You can witness one of the most demanding, yet graceful, sports in competitive athletics. The 1982 United States Figure Skating Association Championships are coming to Market Square Arena in Indianapolis on January 27-31, 1982. One hundred fifty of the nation's top amateurs will be competing.

Sanctioned by U.S.F.S.A. under the auspices of The Junior League of Indianapolis, Ice Skating Club of Indianapolis, Winter Club of Indianapolis and Commission for Downtown. Sponsored by Travelers Insurance Companies, Hartford, Conn.

Tomorrow's Champions are today's youth, reaching out to attain success through new knowledge and training.

PARENTS — Give this special gift to your young skater !

a book that introduces a new program of simple on and off-ice techniques that work.

- Relieve stress and destructive pressures to produce a calmer, more confident skater.
- Discover how to win at important competitions using visualization and mental preparation.
- Raise vital energy levels necessary for demanding skating routines.
- Eliminate many serious injuries and time-consuming layoffs by means of relaxation techniques.
- Establish a more compatible working relationship between parent and skater by examining some of the new problems facing young people today.
