ONE FAN'S PERSPECTIVE

Dear Editor:

Morry Stillwell's August "President's Message" (Skating, August 1995) fails to address the true problems inherent in the changes in the sport, especially eligibility rules.

Point No. 1: The second (final?) reinstatement period did not offer current ineligible skaters, such as Brian Boitano, Viktor Petrenko and Kristi Yamaguchi, a chance to stay eligible. Once again, tardy decisions made after the fact had no "grandfather" clause to benefit skaters whose careers may have been adversely affected by the I.S.U.'s ponderous timetable.

Point No. 2: Rules that "give greater credit to the artistic and creative element of skating" are not an enticement for ineligible skaters to enter I.S.U.-sanctioned open competition. In fact, these rules diminish the value of the technical proficiency of the top ineligible skaters! The USFSA/I.S.U. has now managed to exclude these ineligible skaters for eligible competitions where technical proficiency is rewarded, and has lowered the value of technical merit in those events for which they are eligible! Why should Petrenko, Yamaguchi and Boitano — all capable of competing technically in any competition — welcome new rules such as these?

Point No. 3: The fans have not been considered at all by the USFSA/I.S.U. during their decision-making process. Fans would have enjoyed a series of new events with a level playing field — i.e. a judging panel with 50/50 representation of I.S.U. and professional judges. Many fans prefer the 10.0 scoring system, with no ordinals, used in ineligible events. Why should fans enjoy a system where skaters perform, "from cradle to grave," under current I.S.U. judges and rules? (I can't believe the skaters want this either.)

Point No. 4: To quote Mr. Stillwell, "the main ingredient is money." Television money comes from sponsors who listen to the opinions they hear in letters. Promoters like to sell tickets to their events.

In 1994, both ticket sales and TV ratings for I.S.U./USFSA events were considerably lower than for "ineligible" events. Why would the USFSA believe skating fans would be pleased by changes, as described by Morry Stillwell, that will result in fewer TV appearances and live performances by some of their favorite ineligible skaters?

Promoters, TV networks and sponsors are going to be hearing from a skating public whose wishes are being ignored. The USFSA will have to deal with this problem — it may be a "personal decision" on the part of the fans, but it isn't going to go away.

I respectfully suggest the USFSA and Mr. Stillwell check the baseball attendance figures this season to see what happens when arbitrary decisions are made that ignore the paying public.

CALIFORNIA SKATERS TRAVEL SOUTH OF THE BORDER TO PROMOTE SPORT

The city of Guadalajara, Mexico, along with the Federacion Mexicana De Deportes Invernales A.C., invited six California skaters to perform for the opening of their new ice rink, Ice Land, during the past summer. The Mexican federation is trying to encourage the participation of young Mexican children in the sport of ice skating. To achieve this goal, they invited skaters from California to perform in a series of ice exhibitions to stimulate interest in potential young skaters in Guadalajara.

The skaters represented the Stockton FSC, the Peninsula FSC, and the St. Moritz ISC. Evelyn Gill Faye, coach of former Mexican National Champion Juaquin Gurro, coordinated the trip.

The skaters performed two exhibitions a day over a five-day period. The rink's official opening included a ribbon-cutting ceremony attended by Guadalajara's Holy Father, the City's Mayor and the President of the Federacion Mexicana De Deportes Invernales A.C. and member of the Comité Olimpico Mexicano José Luis Aguilar-Urzaiz. The skaters performed to a live mariachi band as well as skating their programs for a standing-room-only crowd.

The skating rink's coaching staff, led by Marisol Leon Alfaro, were gracious hosts. In their free time, they showed the U.S. skating group the sights of Guadalajara as well as nearby Lake Chapala and the artisan community of Tlaquepaque. The trip provided a cultural as well as a skating opportunity that will be long remembered by its participants.

COLORADO SPRINGS WORLD ARENA RECEIVES MAJOR GIFT FROM TOM COLLINS

Fund raising for construction of a new, multi-use arena in Colorado Springs received a major boost from a longtime friend of skating and the USFSA.

Peter Susemihl, president of the Colorado Springs World Arena Board, announced recently that a major contribution toward the building project had been received from Tom Collins Enterprises, producer of the annual national Tour of World and Olympic Figure Skating Champions, headquartered in Minneapolis, Minn.

A former professional skater with the Sonja Henie ice shows before turning to production, Collins is recognized as the sport's leading promoter of American and international amateur and professional skaters with his touring show. In recognition of his many contributions to the sport of figure skating, he was a special honoree at the 1993 USFSA Awards Banquet in Cleveland, Ohio.

At Collins' request, terms of the gift were not released, but Susemihl acknowledged, "It is six figures, and the largest donation to date from an out-of-state private business."

In addition to Collins' gift, the Colorado Springs World Arena has raised $27 million towards funding the projected $45.9 million cost for the 8,000 seat arena.

With a projected fall 1997 completion of the multi-use facility, the Colorado Springs skating community fervently hopes that once its arena of dreams is built, the Tour of World and Olympic Champions will come.

CHICAGO FSC CELEBRATES 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Members and supporters of the Chicago FSC got an early jump on next year's 75th Anniversary of the USFSA when they celebrated that club's own Diamond Anniversary at an Oct. 20 dinner and dance in the Chicago suburb of Des Plaines, Ill.

The Chicago FSC traces its origins back to Nov. 20, 1920, when the club applied for a formal charter — one year before the formation of the USFSA. It later became one of the seven original member clubs of the USFSA.

In addition to the dinner and dance, the Chicago FSC produced a souvenir booklet that included congratulatory letters from prominent politicians including President Bill Clinton, 1948 Olympic champion Barbara Ann Scott-King of Canada and other skating clubs from around the area. The club also produced a souvenir pin to commemorate the anniversary. ■

MARRIAGES

Sundee Layne Witt and Jacques Charles Clermont were married Sept. 30 on the beach at sunset at the Hotel Del Coronado on Coronado Island, Calif. The bride is the daughter of Jacque Witt of Phoenix, Ariz., and Larry Witt of Scottsdale, Ariz. A gold medalist, she has been a skating professional at the Ice Palace in Phoenix for 23 years. The groom is the son of Lucille Clermont and the late Charles Clermont of Ottawa, Ontario, Canada. A benefits consultant, he has been a hockey official in both the U.S. and Canada for 20 years. The couple will reside in Phoenix.

BIRTHS

Wendy and Patrick Melland of Kansas City, Mo., are the proud parents of a baby boy Patrick "Bryan" Melland Jr., born Sept. 17. His mother is a member of the Silver Blades FSC of Kansas City and a gold figure and free skating judge as well as a senior figure competition judge and figure referee.

DECEASED

Herbert "Bud" Talbot died on Aug. 12 in Jupiter, Fla. He is survived by his wife, Betsy N. Talbot, 1939 U.S. novice ladies' champion, gold figure and free skating judge and national competition judge.

Harold Robert "Hal" Sells, stepfather of JoJo Starbuck, three-time U.S. pair champion with partner Ken Shelley, died of an apparent heart attack on Aug. 18 in Las Vegas, Nev. He was 78. Sells was a petroleum geologist and engineer by profession. He and Alice Starbuck Sells were married for 17 years. In addition to his wife and stepdaughter, Sells is survived by a brother, a niece and a nephew.

Andrea Marie Dybacz succumbed to a two-year battle with leukemia. on Aug. 25, her 14th birthday. A member of the SC of Utica, N.Y., she began skating at the age of 6. She was coached by Regina Burton and competed in several area competitions and was a featured skater in her club's annual ice show. Shortly, after making her club's precision team, the Sharper Image, Dybacz was diagnosed as having leukemia. Although she was unable to accompany her teammates to the 1994 Eastern Precision Championships, they were determined that she not feel left out and wore purple ribbons throughout the competition to show their support of their stricken team member. During the club show that year, all the skaters wore purple ribbons and during the finale, Dybacz was brought out on the ice and presented with flowers from the precision team and a plaque from the club. The following year she seemed to recover. She was able to return to school and to skating. She again made the precision team and was even able to compete with her teammates at a competition in Clayton, N.Y. Suddenly, however, she suffered a relapse. She was unable to make the trip with her teammates to the 1995 Eastern Precision Championships in Fitchburg, Mass. They placed a giant "Get Well" card in the lobby of the arena and members of the teams that competed there signed and pinned their team pins to it to express their solidarity. With the help of tutors, she was able to finish the eighth grade at John F. Kennedy Junior High School in Utica, N.Y. The last five months of her life were spent under the care of the University of Iowa Hospital and Clinic in Iowa City, Iowa. Dybacz is survived by her parents, Ray and Julie Dybacz, a brother, Roman, — and 12 teammates — who stood by her throughout her affliction.

Parker W. Nik, husband of Sharon McKenzie, 1957 U.S. dance champion and world bronze medalist with partner Bert Wright, passed away in his home in South Lake Tahoe on Aug. 31. He was 66 years old. A longtime skating enthusiast, Nik was a past president of the Capitol City FSC in Sacramento, Calif. After his service with the Army in Korea, he worked with the U.S. Department of the Interior, from which he had been retired 10 years. In addition to his wife, Nik is survived by a son, Bill Otto, a daughter, Trina Johnson, and three grandsons. ■

BATTLING BULIMIA

Dear Editor:

I am a 16-year-old figure skater from Cape Cod, Mass. I am writing to thank you for both articles on eating disorders (Skating, August 1995 and October 1995). My club is small, but competitive and it's an issue that's often ignored. Skating is a beautiful, inspiring sport which can almost be ruined by eating disorders. I have suffered from bulimia since I was 12 and have been in recovery for nine months.

At the moment I am much better, but I believe that this disease is something that no one should have to face. In my eyes, it's the worst thing that could "haunt" a young girl's life. My disordered thinking began at the age of 9, as far as I can remember. Your articles will hopefully prevent many girls from even starting this thinking. Once it starts, it's almost impossible to stop.

The "ideal" body is almost unrealistic for most people to achieve. The idea that it can be achieved has to change. My body is short but strong. I've been compared to Tonya Harding many times. I've gone to competitions and skated flawless programs and should have been placed above most of my competitors. In the end, I would place below where I should have. Why, I don't know. My mind would tell me it was because of my body. This would start my fasting, bingeing and purging cycle.

In my opinion, the body image of society has to change before these eating disorders really change. I can remember actually wanting to be anorexic. Hopefully, your articles combined with other things will start the change that's needed. I know I don't feel as alone as I did before.

Dear Anonymous:

Thank you for sharing your experience with bulimia with our readers. I am glad you found the courage to confront your eating disorder and hope that other skaters suffering from eating disorders will be inspired by your letter and seek the assistance they need to fully recover.

FOCUS FOR

PARENTS

By Ann Morton Neale
USFSA Parents Committee

Many school officials and teachers view figure skating as a frivolous activity. It is not seen as a serious sport like football or tennis or even gymnastics partly because it is not an inter-scholastic sport. Typically, teachers are not even aware that a student is a skater. As parents, we must work hard to gain credibility. The Program Development Committee's Competitor Recognition Program meets this need at several levels, however, parents must utilize it.

Test Letter. When a skater passes the Novice Free Skating Test or higher, the Novice Pairs Test or higher, the Pre Silver Dance Test or higher, the Fifth Figure Test or higher, a letter is sent from USFSA Headquarters to the principal of the skater's school. The letter describes the importance of the achievement and includes background information about the USFSA. For a letter to be sent, your test chairman must include the principal's name and address in his test report. Make sure this information is provided in the proper space on your club's test application.

The Program Development Committee has drafted a general letter to principals listing the test achievements of skaters passing lower tests. This draft is sent to all Club presidents. If your club is not already using this program, please encourage it to do so. Our educators need to know about and understand our skaters' achievements.

Competition Letter. The USFSA sends a letter to the school principal of each skater who qualifies for Sectional competition. The form for this letter is included in the Sectional Announcement packet skaters receive at Regionals. The same procedure will be followed for National qualifiers with the form being in the National Announcement packet.

These letter programs have been very well received by schools. Many parents have reported that principals have used them at award assemblies communicating the skater's achievement to the entire student body.

USFSA Scholastic Honors Team. This award recognizes skaters for outstanding skating and academic achievement. Consideration for this award is given to academic achievement, competitive skating record, USFSA and club activities, community involvement. To be eligible, a skater must be a full-time student entering his junior or senior year of high school, must have maintained a 3.2 GPA for two years and must have competed at a qualifying competition at the junior or senior level within the past three years. Applications are available from the USFSA; the deadline is in early September.

The USFSA Memorial Fund provides training and collegiate scholarship grants annually to skaters who have competed at the sectional level as novice or higher. Awards are based on competitive record and financial need. All eligible skaters will automatically receive applications from the Memorial Fund in March. Sectional intermediate competitors who pass the novice test prior to June 1 are also eligible, these skaters must request an application from the USFSA.

This year's Sectional Championships are at Los Angeles FSC, Burbank, Calif, Dec. 10-16; Twin City FSC, Bloomington, Minn., Dec. 6-10; and Capital City Council, Alexandria, Va., Dec. 4-9. Nothing is as inspiring to an aspiring skater as seeing higher level competitors. If you live near these competitions, treat yourself and your child by attending several events.

"Maintaining a Happy Skater" is the theme of this year's Parents Committee Meeting. Under the leadership of Parents Committee Chair Carole Yamaguchi, meetings with parents are scheduled at each Sectional Championships as well as the 1996 State Farm U.S. Figure Skating Championships. The topics covered will include maintaining a healthy diet, preparing for competitions, the roles of the parent and coach, extracurricular activities and school. Each meeting, hosted by a member of the Parents Committee, will provide information to parents about the USFSA, offer a forum for the questions and concerns of parents and enable parents to work together for the benefit of all skaters. These meetings are a time for sharing problems and solutions.

At the 1996 State Farm U.S. Figure Skating Championships, there will be two meetings: a general one covering USFSA protocol and a panel discussion. At the general meeting, representatives from the USFSA Board of Directors, International Committee, Memorial Fund Committee and Sports Medicine Committee will be among the speakers. The panel discussion will include an athlete, a coach, a sports medicine representative and a parent. These meetings are for parents of all skaters. Your child does not have to be competing in order for you to participate.■

The USFSA Parents Committee publishes a bi-monthly newsletter titled Focus For Parents, which is intended to serve as a communication bridge between parents and the USFSA. It allows parents to communicate with each other by providing information, answering questions and sharing experiences. The annual subscription rate is $5 for individuals and $3 each for any group of 10 or more. Mail check payable to USFSA with name and address to: Focus For Parents, U.S. Figure Skating Association, 20 First Street, Colorado Springs, CO 80906.

WHAT'S BEING DONE WITH BOOTS TO HELP OUR BACKS?

Editors' Note: In previous issues of Skating, we asked readers to direct any questions related to sports medicine, science, nutrition, etc. to "Ask The Doctor" in care of Skating magazine. The following letter has been selected and answered by Dr. Angela Smith, chair of the USFSA Sports Medicine Committee.

Dear Ask the Doctor,

I'm seeking an answer to a question that has been bouncing around in my brain. When will figure skates with some sort of shock-absorbing material be available? Both of the top men skaters in the country have had serious back problems in recent years, as have many others, (including myself). I have heard that with the increased popularity of the sport, some research and development efforts on improving skates is occurring; but I want to hear about them. What are some of the new ideas? Could you run an article on the subject?

We are living at a time when many studies have illustrated the detrimental effects of constant jarring of the back, yet skaters do it all day long on an unforgiving surface. The sooner these technological advances are available to skaters, the better. Others have probably thought about this also, so please help us out.

Ryan Jahnke
St. Clair Shores, Mich.

Dear Ryan,

As you have noticed, the incidence of significant low back injuries seems to have increased among male skaters in the past decade. This coincides with two significant changes in the sport — the necessity of a successful triple Axel for success at the championship level and the extremely stiff, heavy, skating boot. Skaters now spend more time working on jumps of more than three revolutions, increasing the total amount of stressful load placed on the lower spine at every practice.

As you suggest, better shock absorption would probably decrease the incidence of this problem. Shock absorption can occur in several different ways. Shock can be absorbed in the materials between the ice and the skater's foot; by the skater's own muscles as they control the gradual flexing of the ankle, knee and hip joints; and by the muscles that cross the vertebrae of the lower back. We will start at the top and work down.

Many male skaters with low back pain have a stress fracture in the vertebra — known as spondylolysis — or an actual slippage of one vertebra forward relative to the one below it, called spondylolisthesis. These problems typically occur in sports that require an athlete to land jumps with a hyperextended low back. The problem is made even worse if the athlete first bends forward and then whips back into the extended, arched position which is what many skaters who do not yet have solid technique for landing a triple or quadruple jump do. They may barely hold on to the edge and then pull the trunk into an upright position extremely rapidly to "save" the landing. Stronger muscles of the abdomen and of the back may provide some protection here, but they cannot eliminate all the problems caused by poor technique.

When most athletes and dancers jump up into the air, they cushion their landings by bending at the ankles, knees and hips. A ballet dancer shows very little forward or backward motion of the trunk itself. Instead, all of the motion needed for shock absorption happens below the waist. Skaters now wear boots that are so stiff that the ankle has very little mobility. Therefore, many skaters do not bend enough in the ankle and the knee when they land a jump. This then makes their buttocks stick out behind them and they must arch the back excessively to hold on to the jump. You can see that the stiff boot may well be part of the problem — both by stopping the usual shock-absorbing muscles in the legs from doing their job as the joints flex and by forcing the skater to arch his back excessively.

Additional shock-absorbing material could be built into the skate. Running shoes have been cushioned for decades and many athletes add shock-absorbing insoles as well. Shock-absorbing insoles can be put into skates, but they absorb a fairly small amount of shock relative to the amount that the muscles could absorb if the joints were allowed to bend normally.

As you may have heard, a skate that is hinged at the ankle is under development. The hinged skate allows the ankle to flex so that a skater can bend the knees deeper and use the hips appropriately to cushion the shock to the back. There is not yet an anticipated date for production of the hinged skate. Readers of Skating magazine will be kept posted as to further development and production of this skate.

For now, the best prevention for low back injuries of the overuse type is to increase training intensity gradually, so that your body has time to adapt to the stresses being placed on it. Careful attention to technique is important. Also, strengthening both the abdominal muscles and the extensor muscles of the spine (the long muscles on your back) can be helpful. ■

Do you have a question related to sports medicine, science, nutrition, etc., as they relate to the sport of figure skating? Send your questions to "Ask The Doctor," c/o Skating Magazine, 20 First Street, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80906. We will answer your letters in future Sports Medicine & Science columns.

Elected:	Anne Gerli	Carolyn Kruse	Paula Naughton
Appointed:	Christine Mayer	Kathy Slack	Roy Cofer

EXPANSION ON THE MINDS OF USFSA'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS

By Jay Miller

If there was a recurring theme during the USFSA's Board of Directors Meeting, Oct. 6-7, it was expansion — expansion of programs, opportunities, information services and the physical expansion of the USFSA Headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo.

More than 50 members of the USFSA's policy-making board travelled to Colorado Springs for the two-day meeting to deliver and discuss reports on the status of a variety of programs, activities and competitions being carried out by the national governing body. The Board also gave preliminary approval to a number of measures outlined in the complete Report of Action, beginning on page 14 of this issue of Skating.

All measures passed by the Board will require approval by the organization's Governing Council before being enacted into the USFSA's Rules, Constitution and/or By-laws. The USFSA Governing Council will convene May 8-11, 1996, in Colorado Springs, Colo.

As mentioned, a prevailing theme of the discussions and reports was overall expansion of the organization. With this meeting coming on the heels of one of the most explosive periods of growth in the organization's history and less than three months before the year-long celebration of its 75th Anniversary, USFSA policymakers seemed most interested in discussing how to make the best use of the human and financial resources the sport had attracted during the past few years.

"The USFSA has no choice but to consider, as a top priority, the training and fielding of the finest elite athletes possible... (that) does not mean that we ignore the desires and ambitions of a wider USFSA membership," USFSA President Morry Stillwell of Malibu, Calif., said in his report to the board. "We must also face the fact that we are involved in a large-budget business. We're not a 'mom-and-pop organization.'"

Among the measures adopted that reflected the board's willingness to change with the times was the concept of expansion of the USFSA's Headquarters.

Original architectural plans for USFSA Headquarters, constructed in 1979 to accommodate a 15-member staff, allowed for the future addition a second story to the present facility. In the past 16 years, the headquarters staff has grown to more than 30 employees while available work space has remained the same.

"It's a tribute to the planners of the current building that it has satisfied the needs of the association for more than 15 years. During the last year of Claire Ferguson's presidency, however, it became apparent that the headquarters building was overcrowded and repairs were badly needed."

To deal with the problem, the board approved the concept of adding the second story to the building with the stipulation that only outside monies may be used to fund the project. Monies acquired through the sale of a USFSA-owned house directly adjacent to the present-day headquarters have been earmarked for the project and additional funds will be sought through private donations and grants.

Another highlight of the board meeting came through the announcement of the completion of the application process for one of the USFSA's newest programs — the Scholastic Honors Team. The program was designed to recognize skaters who not only excelled on the ice, but in the classroom as well.

In its first year, the program attracted 53 applicants with exceptional academic and skating credentials, USFSA Program Development Committee Chair Phyllis Howard told board members. Of the 12 student-skaters selected to the team, Howard said two were National Merit Scholarship finalists, one was commended by the National Merit Scholar program, and seven had grade point averages of 4.0 or better. Two members of the team, which will be officially announced and recognized at the 1996 State Farm U.S. Figure Championships in San Jose, Calif., scored perfect 800s on the verbal section of Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT).

In the area of athlete assistance, board members were informed that the USFSA has provided more than $500,000 to U.S. figure skaters this year in the form of direct grants through its three different assistance programs — the Athlete Support Program (ASUPP), the Competitive Skater's Assistance Program (CSAP) and Academic Scholarships.

In the area of information services, Stillwell announced to the board that the USFSA's initial move into cyberspace is now complete with the launching of USFSA Online on America Online (AOL). AOL members may access the area, which contains current results from international and domestic competitions, USFSA news releases, athlete biographies and a message board, by accessing keyword: USFSA. Those who are not current AOL members may request the necessary sign-up software by calling AOL Customer Service at 1-800-827-6364.

Since the Board Meeting, users of USFSA Online have been able to access complete, official results from the various regional and sectional competitions across the country as they are taking place. The results exchange, which was spearheaded by the USFSA's Al Beard and Ed Mann and facilitated by USFSA Online board leader Marge Reynolds, has proven to be an extremely popular feature of the service.

"Based on the success achieved in the early stages of the AOL project, we will continue to expand the information that will be available," Stillwell said, adding that he would like to see a complete calendar for all club competitions across the United States added to the area in the near future. Clubs wishing to have their competitions listed in this calendar should send their event information to "USFSA Online Calendar" c/o USFSA, 20 First Street, Colorado Springs, CO 80906.

In other action taken during the weekend meeting, the USFSA Executive Committee confirmed the selection of the locations for the 1997 and 1998 Governing Council and Board of Directors meetings. As announced during the meeting, the 1997 Governing Council Meeting will be held in Uniondale, Long Island, N.Y., May 7-10, 1997, at the Long Island Marriott Hotel and Conference Center and will be hosted by the Cantiaque FSC, Metropolitan FSC and Long Island FSC. The 1998 Governing Council Meeting will be held in Spokane, Wash., May 6-9, 1998, at Cavanaugh's Inn At The Park, and will be hosted by the Lilac City FSC and Spokane FSC. ■

TOP JUNIORS STAGE SHOWDOWN FOR SHOT AT THE LAND DOWN UNDER

"If you build it, they will come!" is a slogan that has inspired development of the new Colorado Springs World Arena and the words rang true recently as many of the United States' top junior skaters came to Colorado to compete at the 1996 World Junior Team Selections Competition, Oct. 8-9, 1995.

The new, two-rink facility provided an excellent setting for an exciting competition as the nation's top young skaters were vying for a spot on the 12-member U.S. Team that will compete at the 1996 World Junior Championships, Nov. 27-Dec. 3, 1995, in Brisbane, Australia.

Timothy Goebel (left) of Chicago, Ill., nailed a triple Lutz-triple toe combination for second place and a trip to the World Junior Championships in Brisbane, Australia.

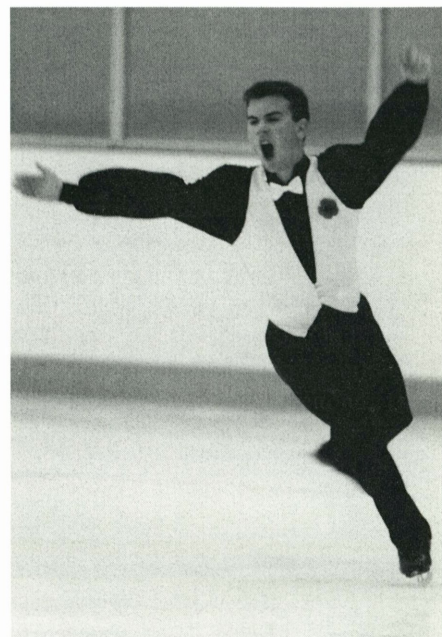

MEN

One of the most impressive efforts of the weekend came from Colorado Springs skater Jere Michael who finished first in both the short program and the free skate in overcoming last year's injury-plagued season.

Michael, 18, is looking forward to his return to the World Junior Championships — having won the bronze medal at the event in 1994. Since that time, however, the '94 U.S. Junior Men's champion has battled a lower-back injury, torn ligaments in his ankle and suffered from waning confidence. This win, he says, goes a long way to restoring his belief in himself and his abilities.

"I doubted myself (throughout the injuries), now I believe in myself. This (win) proves I can skate, I can compete," Michael said of his performance.

Timothy Goebel of Chicago, Ill., added a triple Lutz, triple toe combination to his free skate program which helped him capture second place and qualify for the World Junior Team. Goebel moved up from his fourth-place finish in the short program to second with a sound performance in the free skate. He skated to music from the soundtrack of "Tucker."

Goebel said he is anxious for this year's World Junior Championships, adding he hopes to improve on his 14th-place finish at the 1995 World Junior Championships.

Derrick Delmore of Fort Washington, Md., rounded out the top three men and will serve as the men's alternate skater.

LADIES

Two young rising stars in the ladies' competition proved that dynamite comes in small packages. Shelby Lyons of Oswego, N.Y., training in Colorado Springs, Colo., and Tara Lipinski of Sugarland, Texas, training in Newark, Del., battled to a one-two finish respectively.

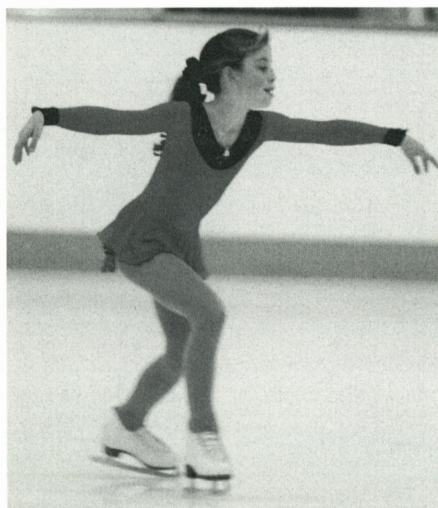

Lyons, 14, skated strong in the short program putting herself in first place. She captured the attention of the partisan crowd and the judges alike with a solid free skate. Lyons held off the competition until 13-year-old Tara Shelby Lyons (above) of Oswego, N.Y., earned first place in the Ladies' event and her first trip to the World Junior Championships.

Lipinski lit up the ice with a riveting free skate.

A fifth-place finish in the short program left Lipinski needing to skate flawlessly in her free skate to qualify for the World Junior Team. She wowed the spectators and impressed the judges as she skated a clean and dynamic program to finish first in the free skate. Her performance pushed her ahead of Sydne Vogel of Anchorage, Alaska, for a second-place finish overall. Vogel finished in third place and will serve as the ladies' alternate.

This will be Lyons' first appearance at the World Junior Championships and Lipinski's second attempt to reach the podium at the competition. Lipinski placed fourth at last year's World Juniors.

PAIRS

The brother and sister team of Danielle and Steve Hartsell of Westland, Mich., were victorious in the pairs event. Skating to music from the movies "Speed" and "Rudy," the Hartsells received first-place ordinals from all seven judges in both the short program and the free skate.

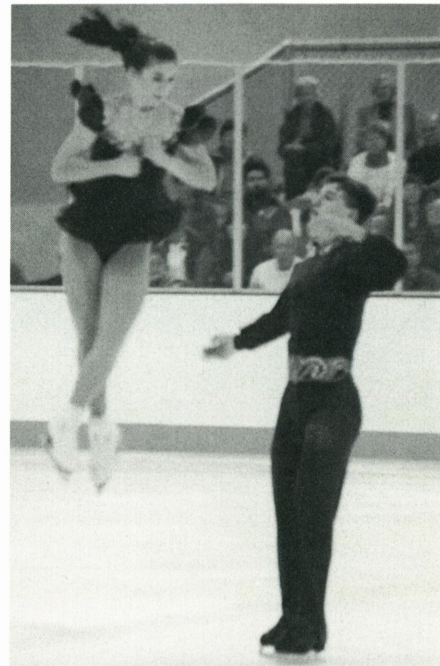

Their performance, the Hartsells agreed, compared to last year's effort at the 1995 World Junior Championships, where they won a silver medal.

The Hartsells are focused on Australia and said they can't wait to hear their country's name over the PA system. "When they say, 'U.S.A.,' we'll realize we have come a long way in the skating world," Danielle said.

Skating to a second-place finish was the team of Natalie Vlandis and Jered Guzman, both of Lake Arrowhead, Calif. Both Vlandis and Guzman said they thought they lacked speed in their program, but were pleased with the outcome. On their first opportunity to compete at the World Junior Championships, Guzman said: "We were shocked and hope we don't wake up in a few hours and have somebody tell us it was a dream."

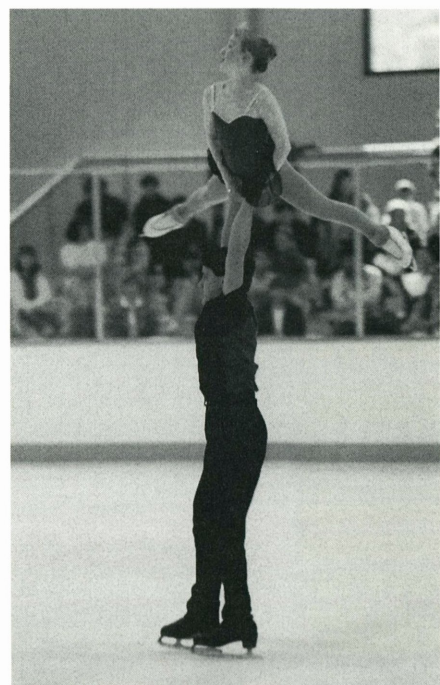

Erin Elbe of Castro Valley, Calif., and Jeffrey Weiss of Foster City, Calif., nabbed the final pairs spot. After a fourth-place finish in the short program, the pair had an extra obstacle to overcome in the free skate as Weiss' boot started to detach from the sole during the warm-up. Even with the damaged skate, Elbe and Weiss continued and Tara Lipinski (left) of Sugarland, Texas, fought hard to overcome fifth-place in the short in order to make a second appearance at the World Junior Championships.

Danielle and Steve Hartsell (above) of Westland, Mich., won the Pairs' event to return to the World Junior Championships where they won a silver medal last year.

Placing second, Natalie Vlandis and Jered Guzman (below) of Lake Arrowhead, Calif., were surprised members of the World Junior Team.

performed well enough to finish third, qualifying them for the U.S. World Junior Team for the second straight year.

Jacki Davison of Torrance, Calif., and J. Paul Binnebose of Lomita, Calif., finished in fourth place and will serve as the pairs alternates for the U.S. World Junior Team.

DANCE

In a stellar performance, Jessica Joseph, 13, of Bloomfield, Mich., and Charles Butler Jr., 16, of Kalamazoo, Mich., captured first place and the sole ice dancing spot on the U.S. World Junior Team.

While the 1995 U.S. Olympic Festival ice dancing champions skated well, they also proved to be their own toughest critics. "The free dance was good, but not our best," Butler said.

This is the second time the duo will represent the United States at the World Juniors, but the glimmer of the competition has not lost its luster. The two still enjoy skating against other dance teams from around the world.

"It will be a great experience to match ourselves up against the best junior ice dancers in the world and see how we compare," Joseph said.

The alternate dance team is the second-place team of Christie Moxley of Newark, Del., and Tom Gaasbeck of Bricktown, N.J.

This year's U.S. World Junior Team is eager to get to Australia. The allure of a foreign country with its warm beaches and exotic animals is matched only by the excitement of having the opportunity to represent the United States against the best junior skaters in the world.

Judging from their reactions to qualifying for World Juniors, this year's team is focused and prepared to give their best performances for themselves, their fans and their country. ■

Darcy Rosie of Sylvan Lake, Alberta, Canada, is the USFSA communications intern for the fall semester. He is a senior public relations major from Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas.

ALEXANDRA DUISBERG

Although she has never skated in an international competition, 9-year-old Alexandra has an international skating background. Alexandra first stepped on the ice at age 7 — during an airline stopover in Dubai, United Arab Emirates, while en route to Nairobi, Kenya. For the past two years, she has been skating in Warsaw, Poland, as her father, a member of the U.S. Foreign Service, is assigned to the U.S. Embassy there. Alexandra is a member of the Marymont Skating Club of Warsaw and since all her fellow club members speak Polish, she has learned to speak the language quite well. Her skating coach, Montse Gras, is Spanish, so when her rink in Warsaw closed for the summer, she was able to continue her training with her coach in Spain at Puigcerda's Sports Center in the Pyrenees Mountains.

Alexandra attends the American School of Warsaw, which allows her to leave class early each day to skate and attend her club's gymnastic and ballet movement classes for skaters. Alexandra is an A student and her favorite subject is math. Last spring she earned the President's Fitness Award for 1995 and also placed first among her age group in her club.

Alexandra is working hard on landing a double Axel for her first formal Poland-wide competition this month. As she anticipates returning to live and skate in the United States within the next three years, Alexandra is eager to learn more about skating and competition in the U.S. and would love to have a stateside skating pen pal. Those interested in sharing their skating experiences with her may do so by writing to: Alexandra Duisberg, USAID-Warsaw, Unit 1340, APO AE 09213-1340.

BRITTANY HIRE

Brittany, 10, started skating at age 5 — on in-line skates on a roller skating team. The following year she switched to artistic roller skating and after placing seventh in the U.S. at age 8, she decided to try skating on ice. A member of the Dallas FSC, Brittany is coached by Staci McMullin and has passed the Preliminary Figure and Free Skating Tests and the Pre Juvenile Free Skating and Moves in the Field Tests. She is preparing for Juvenile Ladies.

The Wolenter sisters are members of the Pittsburgh FSC. Natalie, 17, started skating after watching the 1984 Olympic Winter Games when she was five. She competed in free skating and figure events until she began ice dancing at age 10. Natalie and then partner David Gratta were silver medalists in Novice Dance at the 1994 U.S.

Championships in Detroit, Mich. Natalie and new partner Kevin Spada train at the Seven Bridges Ice Arena in Naperville, Ill., with coach Walter Wielunski and hope to compete in Junior Dance events during the 1995-96 season. An honor roll student at Fox Chapel High School, Natalie plans to pursue a career in sports psychology.

Valerie, 13, followed in her older sister's "skate steps" when she was only 3 years old. An accomplished figures and freestyle skater, Valerie placed fifth and first respectively in the initial rounds of the Juvenile Girls and Juvenile Girls Figures events at the 1995 South Atlantic Regional Championships in Newark, Del. At the 1995 Atlanta Open, she placed third in freestyle and compulsories and fifth in figures at the Intermediate level. She won a bronze medal in figures and finished fifth in freestyle at the 1995 Cherry Blossom Invitational Competition, in Washington, D.C. Valerie trains at the Blade Runners Ice Complex in Harmarville, Pa., and is working on her double Axel and triple Salchow. She is coached in figures and free skating by Beth Sutton. Valerie is an eighth-grade honor roll student at Dorseyville Middle School.

Melanie, 11, also started skating at age 3. She competes in free skating, figures and ice dancing. At the 1995 Mt. Lebanon Invitational, she placed second in Juvenile Figures and third in Pre Silver Dance. She tied for first place in figures at Skate Wilmington '95 in July and placed first in the initial round of the Intermediate Solo Dance event at the Indy Challenge in September. Melanie also trains at the Blade Runners Ice Complex and is coached in dance by former Olympic ice dancer Suzanne Semanick and in figures and free skating by Beth Sutton. Melanie is a sixth-grade honor roll student at Dorseyville Middle School and a recipient of the President's Award for Educational Improvement. ■

Would you like to be among the Faces at the Rink?

Skaters of all ages and skating levels are invited to send a recent photo and a paragraph of information detailing their skating background and recent skating accomplishments to: Skating Magazine, 20 First Street, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80906. Photos should be either black and white or color head shots and will not be returned. We hope to see your Face at the Rink soon!
